When a radical gentleman talks about "class consciousness" the non-radical and prosperous say, "very wicked talk. There should be no division of the citizens into classes. All men should be inspired by national patriotism. All for one, the flag, one for all," should be the motto.

Then you read the dispatch about an engine exploding aboard the great steamer Aquitania and come across this line, "Resulted in the death of one of the firemen."

"ONE OF THE FIREMEN." No name, the man killed wasn't "worth" it. He was simply "one of the firemen." He merely belonged to the class" without which no ship could cross the ocean, no fortune could be built up, no civilization created. When he dies he is "one of the firemen."

You need not be surprised if agitators persuade him to develop his "class consciousness" in life, since he is so promptly and permanently disposed of in a "class conscious" way when he dies as "one of the firemen."

The important question of today: Will the railroad men accept the increased pay offered with back pay since May 1, or will they strike?

The men asked for a billion, they get six hundred millions. We deal in large sums these days.

The question, strike or no strike, is important. If the men accept the increase and the back pay they will get, each man, an average of $200 back pay probably, and in the future about 20 per cent. more wages than they have been getting. The two hundred dollar bonus will make a difference.

As the men are told of the increased pay they are also told one single division of the Pennsylvania Railroad is dropping twelve thousand men.

That may make them thoughtful, it probably was intended to make them thoughtful.

What, in the opinion of the railroads and the government, is the question of honesty involved in dropping twelve thousand men just in time to keep them from getting the back pay they and other men will get? Does anybody doubt that they ought to HAVE it? Is it stealing or only cheating to take it from them?

Leaders of the men will decide about the strike. Perhaps they will say that with a national election coming this is a pretty good time to strike. It might be said, in face of a national election, the government would be slow about coercing or enjoining two million railroad men and their friends.

On the other hand, it may be said that the present administration is not particularly anxious to elect a Democrat to take Mr. Wilson's place in the White House. Also, that the attorney general, just beaten for the Democratic nomination, probably is not very cheerful. He might not hesitate at one or two more injunctions even if it did interfere with the chances of the man who beat him at San Francisco.

Women make too much fuss about men; that spoils life for women and makes them unbearable.

For instance, Mr. Jonas left a very good wife and interested himself in Miss Pauline Meglige, who took the matter seriously.

Presently Mr. Jonas went back to his wife and told Miss Meglige: "I love my wife. Everything is over."

"All right," says Miss Meglige, "but I want to see you just once more." And foolish Jonas did not know what that meant.

She shot him; then herself. He didn't die; she did.

Now comes Mrs. Jonas to contribute her line. She sits by her husband, changes his bandages, and wants the whole world to know, "I've forgiven him, because he needs me."

Two foolish women and one asinine man, who, probably, will be heard from again.

Fourteen hundred and thirty Irish girls arrive in America, and that is first class female news. It is good news, not, as some imagine, because it means servants for those that can't do their own work. It is good news for the country because it means fourteen hundred and thirty good mothers for large families of children. The country needs mothers, not servant girls.

One other piece of news for women is a statement by the wife of Dr. Varanoff, from Paris, that her husband will also "transplant glands in the bodies of ladies."

These glands, carrying with them youth, good looks and enthusiasm, will do many things for the ladies in whom they are transplanted, according to the scientist's wife.

They will free women from many troubles, eliminate nervousness and make youth last indefinitely. It is interesting scientifically. But wise women will say, "Keep your glands, one set is enough for me."

As you may learn from Miss Meglige, mentioned above, one youth involves enough trouble for any one woman, on the average.

THREE DEAD IN AUTO CRASH

Two Dying, Another Hurt When Machine Is Wrecked at Groton, Ct.

New London, Conn., July 21.—Two men and a girl were killed and two others are on the danger list at the Lawrence and Memorial Associated Hospital with injuries that may prove fatal as the result of an automobile accident near the Groton Iron Works shipyard early today.

A sixth member of the party was seriously injured and removed to the hospital.

The dead:

Peggy Wentworth of New York.

Michael Feeley of Boston.

James McKittrick of Woburn.

The injured are: Dorothy Ward, 15, of Lawrence; Anna Bramingham, 22, of New York; and Charles McNally, 26, of Waltham.

BELIEVE CONTROL LOST.

The bodies of the dead were mangled almost beyond recognition. Those injured were unconscious when removed to the hospital. The driver of the machine was only slightly injured.

The dead and injured are employes of the Griswold Hotel at Groton. They were returning to the hotel in a public service automobile when the driver, Gustave E. Evans of Thames street, Groton, apparently lost control of the car while speeding thirty miles an hour. He was arrested on the order fo Coroner F. H. Bowen.

The crash is alleged to have been the termination of an outing which the party of six had participated during the earlier part of the night. The party was seen to cross the State highway bridge a few minutes before the accident occurred.

Medical Examiner Dr. F. W. Hewes of Groton, who was summoned to the scene, ordered the removal of the dead to a local undertaking establishment and the injured rushed to the hospital.

BEST OF SUMMER WEATHER AT HAND

Boston is due for its "regular" brand of summer weather during the next few days, Observer Smith said today. It will be fair, yet without extremes of temperature, with low humidity and light southwest winds. The low humidity makes the Summer days bearable. Today's average was 67 per cent., 5 less than normal.

TRY PRISON HEAD FOR BERGDOLL ESCAPE

New York, July 21.—The court-martial of Lieutenant-Colonel John E. Hunt, commandant of the Castle William prison, Governor's Island, began today with Lieutenant-Colonel C. C. Cresson as judge advocate. The commandant is charged as responsible for the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, millionaire draft dodger.

Shamrock Favorite as Race Starts

On Board Goldsborough, July 21.—At 10:30 the postponement flag was hoisted by the regatta committee. It was evident that no chances were to be taken today so far as wind was concerned. At 10:50 this breeze was still very light and the two yachts were slipping about the lightship waiting for better conditions.

By International News Service.

Aboard U. S. Destroyer Goldsborough, Off Sandy Hook, N. J., July 21 (via Wireless).—A thick haze hung over the lower bay today as Shamrock IV. and Resolute prepared for their third and what may be their final race for America's cup.

Both yachts passed out of Sandy Hook about 9:30, headed for the starting line at Ambrose Lightship. They were in tow.

Early in the morning there was no breeze at all. Later one sprang up, giving hope that the race would be started at the scheduled hour. At 10 a. m. the breeze had dropped to three knots. Weather sharps predict a southerly breeze for this afternoon.

The Shamrock reached the lightship at 10:16, followed ten minutes later by the Resolute. The wind at 10:20 was south at the lightship, blowing about three knots.

The Shamrock was the favorite over the Resolute today for the first time since the races began. She is quoted at 7 to 5 to win the America's cup.

The course for today's race was a windward-leeward course, fifteen miles out and fifteen on the homeward leg.

With two victories safely tucked away in the international series

TWO ALARM FIRE IN CHELSEA

Families Flee Homes When Threatened by Blaze in Leather Factory

Damage of $20,000 was caused today by a fire at the plant of the Victor Leather Company, corner of Pearl and Mrginal streets, Chelsea. It was believed to have resulted from spontaneous combustion.

Three families at No. 55 Pearl street, adjoining the leather factory, were ordered to move their possessions to the street by the police, but the fire failed to reach the building. Workmen at the American Creosote Company on Marginal street, near the burning building, were compelled to stop work on account of the smoke. Traffic was tied up for more than an hour.

Two alarms were sounded, the second alarm bringing the Revere Fire Department. The leather company occupied the first floor of the building, which was a two-story, frame structure. Their losses included damage to a stock of leather, valued at several thousand dollars, and machinery. The building which was destroyed was owned by A. Freedman of Malden.

K. OF C. FINDS MANY ARE IDLE IN BOSTON

The number of men unemployed in Boston this Summer is unusually large, Supreme Secretary William J. McGinley of the Knights of Columbus employment bureau announced today following a canvass for jobs for ex-service men. The bureau placed 313 men last week. Jobs not accepted by the war veterans are given to civilians.

SPRINGFIELD BUILDER OWES $32,778; HAS $800

A voluntary petition of bankruptcy was filed in the Federal Court here today by Homer H. Ferrier, a building contractor, of Springfield. He listed his liabilities as $32,778, part of which, he said, is secured by real estate valued at $25,000. The debts are principally for building materials and labor. The assets are given as $800 in real estate.

Jersey City Saloonkeeper Arrested After Wife and Children Lose Lives

Jersey City, N. J., July 21.—The police are conducting a searching investigation into an explosion in the saloon of Andrew Polski, which caused the death of Polski's wife and three of his four children.

Three others, Adam Kovalski, his wife and daughter, were trapped on an upper story in the fire which followed the explosion and were seriously burned. The authorities charge the explosion was caused by a still.

Polski was arrested on a charge of manslaughter as a result of the deaths. His bartender, Frank Karaszewski, was taken into custody on the same charge.

Polski, the police said, told them he had gone into a storeroom where he kept a large supply of alcohol, with a lighted candle.

PROHIBITION SWING TO HARDING IS TRIED

Lincoln, Neb., July 21.—The strongest attempt made so far to swing the prohibition opposition to the support of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican presidential nominee, was made by Colonel J. H. Ingersoll of Idaho in an executive session of the national committee preceding the convention today. Ingersoll said the party, by endorsing Harding, will help in the selection of a man who comes nearer answering their qualifications than the Democratic candidate, Governor James M. Cox.

CHRISTENSEN URGES THAT DEBS BE FREED

Denver, Col., July 21.—Parley Parker Christensen, Farmer-Labor party candidate for President, today telegraphed an appeal to Senator Harding and Governor Cox to join him in demanding that President Wilson immediately release Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for the Presidency, from the Federal prison at Atlanta.

CRIPPLED STEAMSHIP PUTS INTO PORT HERE

5 R. I. MEN ROBBED IN HOLDUP

Lone Highwayman Knew One of Them Had $4,000 in Inside Pocket

Providence, July 21.—A lone highwayman held up an auto containing five Providence business men on Noose Neck road in West Greenwich early today and forced them to deliver $6,000 in cash.

He escaped in their automobile, which was found ten miles away in Westcott several hours later.

The bandit stepped from behind a tree trunk masked and fully armed, and his injunction to halt was immediately obeyed.

He forced one of the party to pass the bag, and when he saw that $2,000 in cash and some jewelry was all that had been collected he poked his gun under the nose of Morris Rotman of No. 136 Jewett street, Providence, and said:

"You have $4,000 in that inside pocket. You had better turn it over as fast as you can if you don't want to lose more than money in this play."

The other business men were friends and associates of Rotman. The spot where the road agent staged his robbery is about twenty miles from the Providence line.

State and local police investigating the cars declare the highwayman is a Providence gangster, probably employed by some acquaintance of the victims who knew they had a good deal of cash on their persons.

CONGRESS TO KEEP UP MEXICAN PROBE

Washington, July 21.—Congressional investigation of the Mexican situation will continue until all disorder in that country has ceased and a recognized government in Mexico established, it was learned today. The recent report of the Fall Special Senate Committee on Mexican Affairs has been completed, and it will be used in the Republican campaign by Senator Fall and other border Republicans in attacking the Wilsonian policy in Mexico.

Jail Break Postponed Dillon's Wedding

The major developments today in the crusade being waged in Greater Boston against the auto theft system were:

The discovery that the escape of Hussey, Munster and Ward from State Prison interfered with the marriage in June of Barney's pal, John J. (Chink) Dillon, of Somerville, to Miss Anna Conley, member of a highly respectable family in a suburb of Boston.

The making public for the first time of details of Barney's courtship with a very pretty blonde, whose devotion and love for him in spite of the protests and pleadings of her relatives, forms one of the most impressive features of the auto scandal.

An exclusive interview procured by the Boston American with Dillon and his fiancee.

Announcement that others are heavily expected to be caught in the dragnet spread by the Middlesex county authorities.

R. R. HEADS PLAN NEW TARIFFS

Meet in Washington to Raise Rates and Meet $600,000,000 Wage Increase

By International News Service.

Washington, July 21.—Representatives of railway executives went into session here today to consider recommendations with regard to increased rates as the result of the $600,000,000 wage increases granted to railroad labor by the Railroad Labor Board.

The railroad executives are expected to make a strong plea to the Interstate Commerce Commission for increased freight and passenger tariffs to meet the increased wages.

Under the Cummins-Esch Transportation Act, it is provided that the Interstate Commerce Commission take into consideration labor costs on the railroads in figuring the necessary increase in rates to give the roads a five and one-half per cent. return on their capital stock, as provided in the act.

This will necessitate the commission's granting such increases in both freight and passenger rates as will include the $600,000,000 award, which must be added to the operating costs of the railroads.

It was estimated by officials today that the granting of the award will have to be followed by an increase of at least 44 per cent. in freight and passenger rates, in order to absorb the resulting higher operating costs.

Yardmen to Protest Award in Cleveland Parade

Cleveland, O., July 21.—Dissatisfaction with the wage awards for railway employes announced by the United States Railroad Labor Board was expressed by striking yardmen here today and a parade in protest against the awards is planned.

J. O'Rourke, president of the Cleveland Yardmen's Association, announced that the men would not return to work until the full demands are met, their organization recognized and seniority rights of the members restored. The striking yardmen are asking $1 and $1.10 per hour.

Under the labor board's award they will receive $6.96, $8.45 and 05.01 a day.

R. R. Wages Up 115 P. C. Since 1914

Chicago, July 21.—"It is certain that there will be no illegal, sporadic or immediate railroad strike," declared W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, today.

Compilation of figures prepared by Samuel O. Dunn, editor of "Railway Age," shows that as the result of the award the wages of railroad employes will be 115 per cent. more from this time than they were in 1914. The award, said Mr. Dunn, will make the wages of railroad workers exceed the cost of living by from 35 to 100 per cent.

New England Cars Go West to Haul Grain

By International News Service.

Washington, July 21.—The car service commission today ordered the diversion of 25,000 empty box cars from eastern and southeastern territory to western lines to handle the grain crops for a period of thirty days beginning July 24.

Many of the cars will be drawn from New England lines.

The order is a renewal of previous orders issued to relieve freight congestion in the West.

DOCTORS REPORT LYNN FATHER IS NOT INSANE

Harry E. Perry of Ray street, Lynn, waived examination in District Court at Lynn today on a charge of attacking his daughter, Claudia, aged fourteen. He was held for the Grand Jury in $5,000 bail. Two doctors examined Perry and reported that he was sane at present. Perry said he had been drinking an average of nineteen bottles of Jamaica ginger daily.

SUICIDE IN SOUTH BOSTON SUBWAY

Miss Minnie Goodman, 22, Dives Under Train at Andrew Square

Miss Minnie Goodman of No. 55 Stanwood street, Roxbury, committed suicide in the presence of hundreds of commuters today by yhurling herself in front of a subway train in the lower level of Broadway Station, South Boston.

The girl was twenty-two years old. A card found in her pocket was the means of identification.

Miss Goodman was employed as a stenographer by the Northway Motors Corporation in the Back Bay.

She was well when she left home for the office this morning, according to her mother, Mrs. Hymag Goodman.

Neighbors said that the girl had shown some melancholy since a young man friend recently moved away from Roxbury, but relatives

LIPTON, CHEERFUL OVER VICTORY, DECLARES HE'LL TAKE CUP

CHALLENGER CERTAIN HE WILL WIN ONE MORE RACE

against the defender, Resolute, the great green challenger Shamrock IV. loomed like a certain winner as she prepared to enter the third race and those who have consistently backed the Resolute to defend the cup had little or nothing to say.

MUST WIN THREE.

In order to turn the approaching tide of complete defeat aside, Resolute must win three straight races from her sturdy-masted and heavily-sailed rival. And those who have seen Shamrock IV. do some "uncanny" things in light airs do not believe this is possible.

With equally good handling, the challenger can outfoot Resolute, both in reaching and running. Her great advantage in sail area was made very evident in Tuesday's race, and although she is supposed to be a heavy weather boat she showed to remarkable advantage in the light breezes that prevailed.

Sir Thomas Lipton and his close personal advisers are convinced now that nothing can stop the green sloop on her pathway to victory. They all feel sure she can win one out of three more races and it will not surprise any one should that victory come today, though the Resolute may break the string.

"MORE THAN HAPPY."

"I have looked ahead to this for twenty-one years. I feel very confident now that I will lift the cup more than happy," Lipton said.

While a majority of those who have followed the yachts would prefer to see Resolute successfully defend the cup a Shamrock victory will never cup a Shamrock victory will never challenger is a wonderful boat and her owner a most popular "invader."

The Shamrock's victory in the second race was clean-cut, the British yacht crossing the finish line nine minutes and twenty-seven seconds ahead of the Resolute. Subtract this seven minutes, one second to allowance gave Sir Thomas Lipton's boat, victory by two minutes, twenty-six seconds.

Far back in the history of the struggles a British yacht beat a Yankee craft when the latter lost topmast. Last Thursday the luck of this day crossed the line owner, but an accident was responsible.

The Shamrock outraced and outlucked by the Resolute in the second race and the triumph is unsullied accident.

OUTRACED RESOLUTE.

Sir Thomas and Designer Nicholson credit much of their victory to an sail set by the Shamrock's crew during the race. It was a triangular setting close down to the mast, rising from the topsail to a just below the foot of the mast and just filling the space between big Prince Ills and the mast.

"We have named it the Shamrock," said Designer Nicholson, "and is the first time it was ever used on a yacht."

A feeling of sympathy surged through the spectator fleet as Sir William P. Burton of the Shamrock as the two racers lugged to their It was Burton's test race. Hailed as victor in a thousand racesuns sticks.

Burton outgeneraled Adams and Shamrock slanted ahead, the thirty seconds to the good. Above Shamrock someone fumbled the maker and the British crew was self in the folds of the big sail.

The Resolute stepped into the, taking long strides before them. The Shamrock's skipper, realizing, haps, made uncertain for the mo by the errors of the crew, hoisted lowered sails in quick succession. Within twenty minutes of those no less than five changes were The Resolute hoofed it merrily.

The leaf colored racer raced westward for a wind and foul. This quest for a wind made Shamrock, made Burton, and was race. The wind twirled its screws into Shamrock's bailer, starched the freak jib shaped full the world like a sail on a Bella Felicca, and wound up Resolute lead till nothing remained of R

SAILS FILLED QUICKLY.

The Shamrock jibbed and cut across the Resolute's bows and drove on the first turn and rounded it for minutes in the lead. Up the second leg the bitchiest of quiet braced the two ships.

Shortly before the second rounding which lay more than a mile of a half off the coast of North Light Branch an eight-knot howler ebbed its way into the calm and lifted leaden ahead. Sails which had no spilling the wind, suddenly began to sing as they strained on their bows and stays.

The Shamrock whistled as she rounded the second leg and soared the home stretch. Ahead she find the same wind still following and she shook out spinnaker and balon and whirled away.

HUNDREDS OTHER BARGAIN LOTS

Umbrella Blamed for Loss of Trout

Bridgewater, N. H., July 21.—A landing net, an umbrella and a lively lake trout, make a different combination to juggle and when a thunder storm is thrown in for good measure, an angler can hardly be blamed if he loses the trout.

Such was the experience of Walter H. Hoyt, a Lowell business man, who is on vacation here on Newfound Lake was like a mirror when Mr. Hoyt and Frank Fowler, a guide, started out. The sun shone brightly, and Mr. Hoyt were his surroundings as a matter of precaution he brought along an umbrella.

Late in the afternoon, when it began to rain, Mr. Hoyt produced an umbrella, and as he was about to open it he got a "strike." A big lake trout was on his line, fighting hard for liberty.

The guide grabbed the landing net and the umbrella, and Hoyt settled back to battle with the fish.

As the trout was being brought up there came a tremendous crash of thunder. The trout "broke water," there was a flash and the line slackened. The trout had gone, and Fowler still held the landing net—and the umbrella.

PAYROLLS GROW IN MANY LINES

U. S. Labor Statistics Show Increase of Employment for Year; Decrease Last Month

Washington, July 21.—Department of Labor statistics made public today picture every large industry in the United States as showing increased payrolls in 1920 as compared with 1919 and ten out of fourteen industries with a greater volume of employment.

The statistics show, however, that in June of this year there was a decided decrease in both employment and payroll as compared with May. Nine industries decreased the volume of employment. Seven of the fourteen showed a decreased payroll.

The industries selected for comparison were: Iron and steel, car building and repairing, bituminous coal mining, automobiles, woolens, hosiery and underwear, cotton manufacturing, cotton finishing, cigars, boots and shoes, paper making, silk, men's clothing and leather manufactures.

PORTUGUESE OFFICERS GUESTS OF NEWPORT

Newport, R. I., July 21.—Captain Joao Manuel de Carvalho, in command of the Portuguese cruiser Sao Gabriel, now at Fall River, and officers from the ship were entertained here today, first as the guests of the Chamber of Commerce, and later as guests of Captain Douglas E. Dismukes, commanding the Naval Training Station.

HULL MAY HAVE SUNDAY BASEBALL AFTER ALL

Hull will have Sunday baseball after all if the efforts of Albert Lalley, manager of the Bayside team, are successful. Lalley has found that the new law permits the playing of games on public playgrounds even though they be located near churches if the town by city accepts the act.

WORCESTER TAX RATE WILL GO UP TO $26

Worcester, July 21.—Worcester's 1920 tax rate will be about $26 per $1,000, according to latest figures in the hands of the assessors. This will be an increase of $3.60 over the 1919 rate.

PEKIN ISOLATED BY BATTLE

Troops of One Faction Begin Pillaging and Neutrals Move to Protest

Correspondent of the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

Tokio, July 21.—Pekin is isolated and without food as a result of fighting around the city by troops supporting opposing political factions. Food prices have doubled.

Chinese in the battle zone in Chi-li province are terror-stricken and many are threatened with famine.

Chinese soldiers in the Pekin district have begun to pillage, and neutral troops are moving toward Pekin to protect the government.

The western front established by General Tuan Chi-Jui has collapsed, and the eastern front is threatened by the intervention of strong forces that moved southward from Manchuria.

GIRL LEAPS TO DEATH UNDER SUBWAY TRAIN

denied this had anything to do with her suicide.

The girl had been noticed pacing excitedly up and down the platform for some minutes before the arrival of the Cambridge tunnel train for Andrew square.

As the train approached at lessened speed she turned and stared at it, then threw up her arms and pitched forward into the pit.

Edgar McLeod, in charge of the train, declared he suspected the girl's intentions when she turned and looked steadily at him before her plunge.

He applied the brakes at once, but two cars had ground over the body before the heavy train could be brought to a standstill.

Mrs. E. B. Dale of No. 55 Magazine street, Cambridge, one of the witnesses, said she noticed the girl's peculiar actions before the arrival of the train.

Firemen from Engine 15 removed the body from the tracks. It was taken to the North Grove street mortuary.

STORROW URGES COAL EMBARGO

Tells Senate Committee Exports Are to Blame for Dangerous Crisis

New York, July 21.—Ample coal is being mined to supply the country's needs, but the export of that commodity has dangerously curtailed New England's share, and the only means of saving that section from the shutdown of many industries is complete cessation of coal exportation.

This was the testimony of James J. Storrow, Massachusetts fuel administrator, at the first session in the hearings of the special Senate committee on reconstruction and production, which is sitting in the Engineering Societies' Building, No. 29 West Thirty-ninth street.

Storrow said: "The present situation in New England, New York and other Eastern States could be promptly relieved by the government setting to restrict export of coal by methods similar to those of the British government, which puts protection of its own people above the interests of the exporter.

"The situation in the East became dangerous following the 'outlaw' strike the 1st of April." He continued: "Bituminous production dropped off shortly, but in the same month removal of government control was followed by a tremendous increase in coal exports. In January the tons exported were 897,000; February, 716,000; March, 1,052,000; April, 1,902,000; May, 1,942,000. For the past three months tidewater exports from all Eastern fields have been at a rate in excess of 20,000,000 tons a year, whereas the largest total ever recorded before was 9,100,000, in 1913.

QUINCY WOMAN'S SCREAMS SCARE AWAY ATTACKERS

As she was walking along a thinly settled section of Faxon Park road in Quincy, Mrs. Preston Bondurant of No. 188 Kendrick avenue, Quincy, was attacked and roughly handled by a man. Although nearly exhausted by her struggles, Mrs. Bondurant by her screams attracted the attention of Wallace Sachs upon whose approach the assailant fled.

Lowell, July 21.—The directors of the Chamber of Commerce held a special meeting today to consider the signing of a new lease on their present quarters. The owners of the property recently increased the rent of the chamber's office.

"WET" PRESCRIPTION LIMIT IN TEST CASE

New York, July 21.—The validity of the prohibition act governing the limitation of prescription blanks issued to physicians will be tested in this city. An order obtained in the Federal District Court directs Charles R. O'Connor, prohibition director for New York, to show cause why he should not issue more than 100 blanks every 90 days to Dr. Melville A. Hayes.

FACTORY GIRLS ARE FLOCKING BACK TO DOMESTIC SERVICE

EAGER TO WORK FOR $10 "PER"

Newton Man Rubs Golden Lamp That Leads to Army of Servants

That the readjustment period is now in full swing is shown by the fact that housework girls are swarming from shops and factories to their old places in domestic employment. That they are being welcomed back goes without saying.

Residents of the Newton area regard the announcement as premature, for not all of them are supplied with Noras, Thelmas, Maries and Janets, but the discovery that the "girl" is again in the market was made through a Newton man who for the past two or three years has been hurrying home in the afternoon, slipping on a bungalow wrapper and standing ready to set the table, wash the dishes and even "rid up" a room or two.

AN DOES THE TRICK.

Eight days ago this Newton man's grouch left him. He became again the soul of good nature. He ceased to talk of "profiteers" and "unrest" and "labor pirates." He became an optimist. He told everybody that the man who becomes a "bear" on the United States of America is sure to go broke.

This man's complete recovery is due entirely to the fact that Miss Thelma Jones has accepted a position in Newton at $10 a week.

Only a few weeks ago they said in Newton—as perhaps they still say in Milton, Weston, Brookline and Winchester—that it wasn't any use trying to get a girl, because there was none to be had short of $14 and $16 per week.

A few families in Newton have been paying as much, but these prices are looked upon generally out there as sinful.

Finally, however, one Newton man declared his independence of the "atrocities." The father of four, he had it impressed upon him long ago that the mother of four cannot look after four children and keep her house in order. Paterfamilias, therefore, became in time a clumsy dishwasher and no slouch of a "second girl." Finally, he revolted.

NORA TOOK THAT $12.

"I'm going to advertise," he said, and advertise he did.

He received fifteen responses to a single advertisement. They "wanted" $14, $15, $16 and $17 a week. He picked out one who, in the parlance of the call told her what the family was prepared to do to make the place and home attractive and agreeable, and then told her frankly that the most they could give to a newcomer was $12.

"I'll take it," said the girl—and that night the family united in a Te Deum.

"If you can do it," said Newton Man No. 2, "I'll see what I can do." This man had himself cooked on an oil (you may have seen it) picturing the delights of life, half-urban, half-rural, in the Garden City of Massachusetts.

The replies numbering eighty-two, Each asked for $14 or $16, but No. 2 got a "corking" girl for $12 and laid away his apron.

A third man received eleven answers to his ad. and hired a general housework girl for $11.

MUNITIONS WAS CAUSE.

And then the man this story is about tried his hand. His advertisement appeared on Saturday. Nine replies were received in Monday's mail. Norah must have been worth the thought, at least $18, but she made one Newton home happy by coming to work for $5 less.

The girls testify that they left domestic work flat a few years ago became munition plants had so many jobs open to them at twice three times and four times and a half as they could hope to make "living out."

But munition shops are now no more, woolen mills have shut down, shoe shops are on part time, and restaurant and boarding house prices are still sky high.

And, the truth is, everybody appears to have learned something from the experiences of the past few years. The girl has learned that a nice home and a pretty room and excellent food with appreciative people is not un-des rable. Housewives have learned (what husband always knew) that a first-class general housework girl is a precious jewel, to be handled with exceeding care.

Girl Shot Jonas to Spite His Wife

Julius Jonas, who called Pauline his wife, and who was blinded by the bullet she fired.

PHOTOS BY INTERNATIONAL

Chicago, July 21.—Authorities today made public further extracts from the diary of Pauline Meglige, the girl who shot and killed Julius Jonas in the face and then committed suicide.

The diary is an intensely emotional human document. It throbs with love for Jonas, a $25,000 sales manager, and hatred for his wife, sister of Leo Feist, New York music publisher.

It flares into bitterness at the wife's refusal to submit to a divorce, and strikes a subdued note as the girl speaks in veiled contempt of the "weakness" of her lover in going back to his family obligations.

"All I did was for love" is a desperate statement found more than once in the intimate entries. She justify herself in the eyes of the world she was leaving.

She speaks partly in pity and partly in contempt of the position of Jonas in his own household, and the boast of his son that he "beats his father up" from time to time.

The introduction to the diary is altogether an attack upon Mrs. Jonas. It says:

"Mrs. Jonas always had her children opposed to their father, since he returned, the respect they have manifested was pathetic.

"After he had been back but a few weeks his son tore a shirt of his back in an encounter they had. No son should take the liberty of laying a hand upon his father whatever the circumstances. He told my mother that he beat his father up now and then. He is rather proud of his strength.

"Mrs. Jonas made a serious mistake in not granting him a divorce, for she knows he loves me. She also knows his weak points and took unfair advantage of him.

"She hounded him until his nerves were unstrung and he forgot his obligations to me and satisfied her whim. She wanted me to be broken-hearted, and she had her wish.

"Julie and mother, when I am dead indicates that he is supremely happy. He can hardly wait for the moment when he will be with me again.

OPPOSED TO SECRECY.

"Julie wants us to continue seeing each other secretly, but that is contrary to my principles. I get no pleasure out of it, much as I like to see him.

"I prefer to be dead than not to be able to live openly and honorably and to be respected by everyone. Love to me means honor and respect.

"I understand Julie's interest in his children perfectly, but I, too, must be considered, for I am more dependent upon her happiness than they are.

"They might still have his help financially either way if Mrs. J. would only be reasonable. I warned her and pleaded with her, but she only laughed at me.

"Julie says he loves me best of all, and I trust and believe that he does, I suppose. He said once that if she died he would marry me next day. I replied that I would not do such a thing, out of respect for others.

"If he had left me alone when I was free and happy, and had let me keep my own friends, all would have been different. He said he wanted me alone —his theory, not mine. I was lonely and he made it his business to win me.

HE IS TOO WEAK.

"Well, I know such cases are common. People seldom bother about divorce, no matter how unhappy they are, until they really find some one they care for. I believe him to be sincere, and I suppose he is, but he is too weak.

"What I did was for love. I was driven by all-powerful love to do things I never would under other circumstances have done."

In her diary proper she wrote:

"January 3, 1919—Slept well last night, but had a miserable dream. Julie to come to-morrow, I suppose, but will say nothing to Julie about it today. I am too much in love and too conscious of the error involved, the more so as he does not see the light and the way. No letter today, but will write.

"January 4—Something must be done. The facts are coming out. At the beginning of the new year I am entitled to be happy on my own merits and what I have suffered during the past two years. There is only one source that can supply it. It is my duty to see that promises made me are fulfilled.

"January 5—The 'forces' have begun to work. Either they will destroy or create the beautiful. In this case I cannot decide, but must carry out the desires of others. Having a veritable brainstorm today. I am totally incapacitated to listen to a conversation."

VERSES TO HIS LOVE.

Following is verse written to her by Jonas:

"Nothing can destroy;
And only to be with you makes me a different boy."

"TO MY BEAUTIFUL PAULINE."

"'Tis lonesome here in Chi, when someone is away;
The days are long and dreary, the nights are never gay.
One short week seems forever, a month an endless age.
Oh, what a tedious role to play upon this poor old stage."

"January 6—What a night of torture. Am convinced these occurrences must end one way or another. I am entitled to more for every good reason under the sun.

January 7—Had some difficulty in controlling a flood of tears last night. Visions distracting my thoughts for an hour, but the moment after that misery was back with all its fiery, gnawing pain, all of which effectually ends my resolution, regardless of the result, to put an end to it—which is the only thought which gives me any degree of elation from the depth of my suffering."

CONSIDERED HER A WIFE.

Extracts from Jonas' letters follow:

"Jan. 10, 1918—'In my estimation we were married September 3, 1917, with God as our witness. We, I hope, needed none other.

"I will ever be mindful of the time and place that we took the solemn vow. I call you wife, you called me husband. Dear, I feel I must stop'—(after a good cry feel some relief), Pauline, dear, you were always the stronger of the two."

"Jan. 13, 1916—Howdy. Heaven! You are my conception of heaven. God love you. I miss you. But I am happy just because I know you do love me, and you mean as much to me. Last night addressed cards to the family. My Christmas lists were small. Seems that just one gets my attention. Lady! How I just love to give you one good hug."

AUTOISTS MUST PAY FOR BERRIES THEY PICK

Springfield, July 21.—Berry fields of Western Massachusetts are no longer free to autoists and their friends. A tax of 10 cents for the picking privilege has been assessed each picker. Farmers declared that the man who can afford an automobile and gasoline at its present rate can afford to pay for berries.

POLICE FIND 2 RUNAWAY GIRLS

Haverhill Young Women Located During Search for Victim of Kidnapers

Providence, R. I., July 21.—Gertrude Libukis and Sophie Alartoskey, each sixteen years old, were taken in custody here today and held for Haverhill police, who will take them back to their homes in that city.

The girls were found by Providence police inspectors in a house on Burgess street where the officer had gone to look for Florence Rush, an East Boston girl who is believed to have been kidnaped.

Mrs. Sue Sheldon, 64 years old, who lives in the Burgess street house, said the girls had accompanied her from Boston, but declared she did not know they were runaways. No trace of Florence Rush was found, according to the police.

Mrs. Sheldon said that she met the Haverhill girls in the Bostonia Theater, No. 424 Howard street, where she had gone to visit Mrs. Packard, the proprietress, on Tuesday.

The girls said they had been working in a shoe factory in Haverhill, but that work was dull and they were on their way to Providence to find new employment, according to Mrs. Sheldon.

It was decided, she said, that they would accompany her to Providence

MILITARY BURIAL FOR ARLINGTON SOLDIER

Billerica, July 21.—Military honors were accorded the late Private Albert A. Welcome of the Medical Corps of the 165th Infantry, whose body was brought from France, at the funeral service in the Billerica Unitarian Church. The service was conducted by the Rev. William L. Walsh. Members of the American Legion posts of this town, Lexington and Arlington acted as pall bearers. Shawsheen Cemetery, Bedford, where committal services were held. A firing squad from the Legion men fired three volleys over the grave and taps was sounded by a bugler. Mr. Welcome was a resident of Arlington, where he was a special police officer.

FAILED TO UPHOLD BRIBERY CHARGE

Patrolman James Bunce of Lynn, who claimed he was offered $100 and possibly more if he would cease his opposition to the appointments of Patrolmen Roger Dwyer and John J. Sullivan as police inspectors, was found guilty of failure to substantiate his charges by the trial board. Bunce, who was a lieutenant in the army during the war, said that James P. Mahoney, commander of the American Legion, advised him that it would be to his advantage to stop opposing the appointments. Mahoney denied the charge.

WOMAN GOES TO NEW YORK IN METAL PLANE

Framingham, July 21.—Walter N. Stiles of Boston, president of the Eastern Aircraft Corporation, and his wife were passengers in a metal airplane when it left here today for New York, piloted by Lieutenant Samuel Eaton, who is to take part in the transcontinental aerial mail service between New York and San Francisco. Secretary James McKib ben of Boston Chamber of Commerce and his wife made a flight with Lieutenant Eaton from here to Boston.

MRS. PETTIBONE FEARED PLOT

Doctor Swears Defendant Asked Him to "Say Nothing" About Poison

Manchester, Vt., July 21.—Evidence by which the State hopes to show that Myron Madison Pettibone attempted to poison his wife less than a week before she died was followed by testimony given by Mrs. Johanna Wendell, a neighbor of the Pettibones, who told of a conversation she had with Mrs. Pettibone shortly before she died.

Mrs. Wendell testified at the trial in Bennington County Court, where the young undertaker's assistant is fighting for his life, charged with having murdered his wife that he might wed Miss Hollowe, a nurse.

Dr. Edwin M. Gardiner, who attended the dying woman, testified that Pettibone walked out of the house with him and another physician, Dr. Frank J. Hurley, after the woman died and said to the doctors as they were about to leave:

"You have any idea of poisoning, don't say anything about it. I don't want it talked around such a small town."

Eugene Rice, a roomer at the Pettibone house, testified he was present when Pettibone mixed the salts in which the prosecution charges, the accused man administered strychnine. He also took a dose of the same salts himself that night.

TELLS OF STRANGE.

He was questioned as to a meal at the Pettibone house in which Pettibone, Mrs. Pettibone, Miss Wright and himself partook, on the Sunday evening previous to the death of Mrs. Pettibone.

Q.—Who prepared the meal that evening?

A.—Mr. Pettibone.

Q.—What did it consist of?

A.—Bread and butter and tea.

Q.—Who brought the tea to the table?

A.—Mr. Pettibone.

Q.—Did anything happen at that meal which appeared to you significant?

A.—Yes. Mrs. Pettibone took a sip of her tea. She then turned to Miss Wright and to me in turn and asked us if there was anything strange about our tea. We answered that there was not.

"It was awfully strange," she said. "It tastes bitter." Then looking directly across the table to where Mr. Pettibone was sitting she said, 'I wonder if some one is trying to poison me?' She got up and threw the table, threw the tea away, and poured herself another cup.

Rice described the events in the Pettibone house the night Mrs. Pettibone died.

"That evening," he testified, "I arrived home about 8:30. Mrs. Westoff was with Mrs. Pettibone when I went in. Later they were joined by Mr. Pettibone. Mrs. Westoff left at about half past 9 o'clock.

Twenty minutes later Mr. and Mrs. Pettibone and I were in the kitchen of the house. Pettibone said that he felt logey and would take a drink. Mrs. Pettibone replied, and said that she would take one, too, and suggested that I take one. I declined.

"Pettibone mixed the three doses in a bowl and he set the other two on the warming oven. I went to bed before either of them drank it.

"Later, when I was in bed, I heard Mrs. Pettibone shout upstairs, 'Come quick! Eva's terribly sick!'"

"What was the respondent doing when you reached their room?" witness was asked by Attorney General Graham. "He was rubbing Mrs. Pettibone's throat," witness answered.

"What was her condition?"

"She was then relaxed but later her condition changed. Her body stiffened and her head was thrown back."

"How long were you there before Dr. Gardiner arrived?"

"About fifteen minutes."

HELD WIFE BY THROAT.

"What was her condition during that period?"

"She became rigid three times."

"Tell the jury what Pettibone did while he was waiting for the coming of the doctor."

"He got her a glass of water. He held her throat like this (witness exhibiting throat grip). I told him not to do that as he was choking her, and he stopped."

Under cross-examination by James K. Batchelder, chief counsel for the accused man, Rice declared that the alleged murderer walked up and down the bedroom floor as his wife was dying, wringing his hands. When questioned Pettibone said, sobbing aloud:

"Oh, I don't know what I'll do, now that Eva's gone."

Dr. Gardiner was the first witness called. He testified that he was summoned to the Pettibone home by telephone by the defendant.

Dr. Gardiner testified that he heard a voice, which he presumed was Mrs. Pettibone, calling out:

"Tell the doctor to come quick."

He described Mrs. Pettibone's condition when he arrived at the home. She was in a "semi-conscious," said the witness. "I examined her casually and noted her if she had taken anything. She answered that she had drunk some salts. She was extremely nervous, was talking loudly and was very excited. She had two general convulsions and several lesser ones before she finally died."

He told of giving her several hypodermic injections of morphine and other drugs as a sedative, but denied that any time he used strychnine.

The Pettibone jury follows:

Ernest Beebe, farmer, married, Rupert.

William J. Young, married, factory hand, Shaftsbury.

William O. Wilcox, married, farmer, Sand Gate.

Frank Sheldon, farmer, married, Rupert.

Frank Boynton, teamster, married, Bradford.

Babe Fails to Hit Homer for Visiting Prelate

New York, July 21.—Archbishop Daniel Mannix of Ireland and Australia did not reach Brush Stadium until the second game of the doubleheader. So, without his ecclesiastical assistance, the Yankees lost the initial game. But after His Grace tossed out the ball to First Baseman Walter Pipp at the opening of the second game, the Yankees had no difficulty romping away with the second game.

When the Archbishop was told, after the games, that Pipp was connected with the Catholic Church through a clergyman brother in Chicago, Dr. Mannix retorted:

"Now, don't try to take the credit for this game all the way to Chicago. New York won because I tossed the ball. Mr. Pipp helped a little, not through his Chicago brother, but by waiting that half-fair minute run the first time it was pitched to him."

Chancellor Dunn, Rev. Stephen Donohoe, assistant secretary to Archbishop Hayes, and Rev. Thomas Murphy, "chaplain of the Polo Grounds," explained the game to the Australian prelate and his party. At sight of the umpire he asked:

"Who is that chap with the mattress and the cage on his countenance?"

Monsignor Dunn responded:

"That's Moriarty, the umpire, the man they will send to destroy."

Dr. Mannix, as the game progressed, said:

"This is a grand game. It grows on a man. The marvel to me is that the batter is able to hit the ball at all. I can scarcely see it as they fling it at the plate, and my eyes are good. A great game, truly, but apparently every man gets fair play except the umpire. They must pick people of fortitude and wit for that position."

Colonel Ruppert introduced Babe Ruth to the Archbishop, saying:

"Here's a gentleman who never saw a ball game."

The Babe stared wide-eyed and incredulous, then smiled as the Archbishop's title was given, remarking:

"I thought there was a catch in that somewhere."

Colonel Ruppert urged the Babe to hit a home run for the edification of the Archbishop, and the batsman replied in the aggrieved tone of a union laborer asking to work overtime:

"Why, Colonel, didn't you see the one I hit just a while ago?"

Mr. Ruppert, explained that he did see it, with joy filling his soul, but the Archbishop did not, so would the Babe oblige again. The King of Swat courteously rejoined that he sure would try.

TROOPS SHOT IN IRISH AMBUSH

Battle Near Macrom: Enraged Constables Wrecked Tuam Stores and Town Hall

By International News Service.

London, July 21.—Three British soldiers were wounded in a clash near Macrom today, said a dispatch from Dublin. The men were guarding a military lorry that was conveying provisions to the troops at Cork when it was ambushed and attacked. The lorry was abandoned.

All public meetings and processions have been forbidden at Cork as a result of the recent fighting in that city.

Latest advices from Tuam, which was wrecked in fighting early Tuesday, describe the scenes during the attack as a perfect hell.

Constables were said to have been thrown into a frenzy of rage after finding the bodies of two comrades who had been shot from ambush. The police then attacked the town. The Town Hall was wrecked and all the shops on the two main streets were looted.

Only the intervention of constables who had been stationed in the district for many years prevented younger and inexperienced policemen from shooting several men who had been taken prisoner. The Sinn Feiners were lodged in jail, but were liberated by the local constable.

The clergy of County Galway have appealed to Brigadier General Lucas, commander of the British military forces in Ireland, to mete out justice to the men who were responsible for the shooting up of the town.

WOBURN TO GET 50 TROLLEY RIDES FOR $3

Six-cent fares by means of coupon books of fifty have been promised for the Woburn-North Woburn line of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company. Mayor Golden of Woburn and the following his conference with the railway trustees. The books, which will sell for $3, the mayor said, must be used within thirty days. The fare is now 5 cents on the line which now ends at North Woburn would be extended to Woburn-Wilmington boundary line.

NINE-YEAR-OLD GIRL IS DROWNED AT PORTSMOUTH

Portsmouth, N. H., July 21.—Rose Clark, aged nine, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark of Washington, D. C., was drowned in the South Mill, pond, near the Junkins avenue bridge, when she slipped from a rock, on which she was standing. Miss Pauline Bradford, daughter of Rear Admiral Bradford, U. S. N., made several unsuccessful attempts to rescue the child. The body was recovered by William Martin.

AUTOIST WHO CARRIED MOONSHINE FINED $50

Lawrence, July 21.—Moonshine of 24 per cent. variety, which was found in the automobile of Abranam Steinberg cost him a fine of $50 in United Trinity Court Canteen to pay for the large fireplace on the main floor of the clubhouse. The gift was sent by Mrs. H. Addington Bruce,

WOMAN CROSSES OCEAN TO WED

Becomes Bride of Attleboro Man at Home of Uncle in Dorchester

The wedding of Miss Annie Goddard of Glossop, Derbyshire, England, and Harold Treen of Attleboro, a veteran of the Canadian army, took place at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Sheppard, No. 57 Woodford street, Dorchester.

Rev. Mr. Mitchell, of the Attleboro Congregational church, officiated. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Isabel M. Sheppard, of Dorchester. The bridegroom was unattended.

The marriage is the result of a romance of the world war. The bridegroom resided in St. John, N. B. and enlisted in the Canadian army early in the war. While on a furlough he visited friends in Glossop and met Miss Goddard, who resided there and knew his friends. From this developed the romance which resulted in the girl crossing the ocean a few months ago to become a bride. Mr. and Mrs. Treen are on an automobile trip to Detroit and will return by way of Canada, through Montreal and the Adirondack mountains. They will reside in Attlebro, where he is in the jewelry business.

CONVENTION OF TEXTILE WORKERS IS POSTPONED

Manchester, N. H., July 21.—The date of the convention of the United Textile Workers of America, which was to be held in this city in September, has been postponed to October 4. The delegates from the United Textile Workers, who are to attend the convention of the British Trades Council in England the latter part of next month, are now given time to return to this country and attend the conference for the purpose of making their reports.

BIDDING BRISK FOR GOVERNMENT TUGS

Washington, July 21.—Substantial bids for the fleet of seventy-eight tugs offered for sale by the Shipping Board have been received, members of the board said today, some of the bids being higher than now prevailed for that class of vessel by direct sale. George H. Leighton of New York, representing a syndicate, offered to buy the entire fleet for $180,000 each with the exception of the wooden tugs and $230,000 each for those of steel.

DAMROSCH'S DAUGHTER BRIDE OF SOLDIER

Augusta, Me., July 21.—Miss Gretchen Blaine Damrosch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Damrosch of New York city, and a granddaughter of James G. Blaine, was married in Paris to Thomas K. Finletter of Philadelphia, according to cable dispatches received here. The bridegroom served overseas as a lieutenant.

TENANTS' FIGHT UP TO ALLEN

Back Bay Citizens Object to 40 Per Cent. Advance and to Signing Affidavits

A plan adopted by the Sudbury Real Estate Trust to increase rentals of 104 tenants in the Back Bay district 40 per cent. in spite of the new housing law limiting raises to 3a per cent. was submitted to Attorney-General John W. Weston Also today by Chairman John H. Sherburne of the Commission, on Necessaries of Li.fe.

Leases presented by the realty firm to these tenants are effective September 1, and include an affidavit which says that the tenant considers the rental demanded just and reasonable. The trust admits increasing rents 40 per cent., according to tenants.

Before th affidavits were attached, tenants were advised by attorneys to sign the new leads at once in order to retain possession, promising that they could not be forced to pay more than the legal 25 per cent. The affidavits, it is said, are a device to violate the new law and the tenants have appealed to the State Commission.

General Sherborne said today that if the rent law passed by the last Legislature was not effective steps should be taken at once to have a new one with "teeth" adopted by the next session.

The attorney-general declined to discuss the affidavit issue which had been presented him, but it was expected that his decision would be announced in a few days.

LAWRENCE BOXER IN FATAL BOUT ARRESTED

Lawrence, July 21.—Following the death late last night of Frank Russo, eighteen years old, of No. 257 Chestnut street, as the alleged result of a boxing bout in a camp at Peter Brooks Point on the Merrimack River, John R. Madden, an athlete of some repute throughout New England, is under arrest pending inquiry by the police and the medical examiner.

Russo, said to have been ambitious for pitching laurels, met in the camp last night with three or four young friends who told Madden of the bruiser's desire.

While the others were swimming Madden and Russo donned gloves and went at it in a friendly way. Acquaintances of both declare there never had been bad blood between them.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO PROBE ARNSTEIN CASE

Washington, July 21.—An investigation of the activities of "Nicky" Arnstein, alleged "master mind" of Wall Street bond frauds, is to be made by the Federal Grand Jury of the District of Columbia. Assistant District Attorney Gordon is seeking a writ for the production here as witnesses of two men who have been arrested in connection with the alleged robberies. It is alleged many of the stolen bonds were disposed of here.

NEARLY DROWNS WHILE DRAGGING FOR BOY'S BODY

Westfield, July 21.—The body of Patrick Fitzgibbons, fourteen years old, of No. 78 Conant street, Roxbury, State Sanitorium patient drowned yesterday, was recovered from the Westfield river today. Thomas Reynolds of West Newton, one of the searching party, narrowly escaped drowning while dragging for the body. Fitzgibbons was unable to swim, and was drowned when a sandbar upon which he was standing was washed into the current.

TWO COUNTRIES TO DECORATE AIRMAN

Springfield, July 21.—Mrs. George C. Elsey, wife of Captain Elsey, who is stationed at the army recruiting station here, will sail for Europe on August 14, to receive decorations for bravery awarded her by the Ship-and Serbian governments. She served as a volunteer nurse with the British forces in France, highest than the war she was married to Lieutenant Elsey, an Englishman, in 1917 who was killed. She married Captain Elsey at the close of the war.

EDWARD G. GRAVES, G. O. P. CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

Additional opposition appears in the race for sheriff of Suffolk County. In addition to Lewis R. Sullivan, Sheriff Keliher may be opposed by Edward G. Graves, who seeks the Republican nomination. In the Tenth Congressional District Congressman Gallivan will have Robert M. Bowen and Harrison M. Atwood battling for the Republican nomination to oppose him. Forces in both parties seek re-election in the Thirteenth District.

FIANCEE IS LOYAL TO DILLON

(the 142 soon indicted in Middlesex County is the last stolen auto "clean-up," are still at large and that a group, of the more prominent of these fugitives from justice, are expected to be apprehended very soon.

Assurance of fresh indictments at the special session of the Middlesex County Grand Jury, which will begin on August 2.

The speeding up of action by District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts and his assistants, Messrs. Harvey and Wagner, preparatory to the new Grand Jury people.

The prospect of early joint action on stolen auto cases by District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier in Suffolk County and a possible State inquiry by Attorney General Allen, who is studying the situation.

Evidence that thieves who found it difficult to sell a stolen car, as a last resort turned it over to "a patrolman in the ring," who would claim a reward from an insurance company for recovering the car and divide with the thieves.

Evidence that cities are divided into zones for the collection of insurance rewards by policemen who secretly act as confederates of the auto thieves.

The arrest of Dillon, quickly following that of James J. Hart, a former Boston patrolman, by the Cambridge police, showed that a general round-up is in progress. It was hinted in police and court circles in Boston and Cambridge today that Barney may not have furnished as much information as was first supposed and that Albert Paeff, the notorious Chelsea "fence" who is serving a substantial term in Charlestown, has talked more freely than any of the other members of the auto theft system now in cells.

It was also learned from reliable sources that Paeff's so-called "confessions" have conflicted in essential details and that Dillon and Hart may be "pumped" for any light that they are willing to shed on the general situation.

Jack Levy, out on $2,500 bail for alleged complicity in the auto thefts ring, is expected to be called in any day. Among the first of the pending auto cases to be tried in the Fall in the East Cambridge court will be Patrick McColgan and his son, William, of Chelsea, who are alleged to have operated with Paeff. It is alleged that Barney changed his attire in McColgan's house the night he shot Patrolman Deininger.

John Dillon was no sooner bailed out by a former employer on $2,500 surety than he hastened to the home of his sweetheart, who had been concerned about his welfare. Miss Conley said today:

POSTPONED WEDDING.

"It is a pity to hale Jack into court again. He has turned over a new leaf since his trial with Barney. He has lived an honest, upright life since his acquittal. Nobody could point a finger at him for months.

"It has all been unfortunate, a nightmare to me. He is the last fellow in the world I expected to get into such trouble. There is nothing bad or vicious about Jack. It was simply a case of evil companions and circumstance.

"I became acquainted with him about three years before his arrest. Friends introduced us. We were engaged. We were to have been married in June, but Jack put it off when he heard Barney was free in Malden. I was willing, but he said the fact that Barney was free might create complications for him and that it would not be fair to burden me with his troubles and disgrace.

"I told him there had been disgrace and that the trial was too horrible to think about and thought surely there as an example. He said he would profit from it. I reminded him that a jury of twelve citizens had pronounced him innocent. That wiped out that awful stigma. Many an innocent man has to face trial, but acquittations are not always evidence of guilt.

"A jury believed in Jack after hearing all the evidence. I also believe in him and am confident that if District Attorney Tufts and the courts show him the proper consideration now that he will make a good citizen and husband.

"A jury freed Jack. Apparently the public forgets that, in linking his case with Barney's, Jack has suffered anxiety because of the publicity given to Barney's escape and surrender. But Jack had no dealings with Barney after his escape. He did not hear from him directly or indirectly.

"LIVING STRAIGHT."

"He was living straight and that's the way he's going to continue to live if the authorities do not shatter his fine resolutions and our plans for the future. I shrink from publicity, but I want to defend Jack in his hour of need. That and that only prompts me to speak in his behalf. His record is clear to date."

Dillon said:

"Anna visited me three times a week. She was loyal during the trial. I felt sorry and ashamed. We were to have been married in June, she was willing but I didn't want to put her to any risk. I thought if anything happened it would be a poor way to show my regard for her. So I told her we had better wait and we have. I want to go in business. I have been living at Nantasket since May.

"I didn't know they wanted me in Cambridge until Monday. I heard later that several Cambridge officers were at the beach looking for me. I did not hide at any time. I came to and from Boston Sunday. I saw two Cambridge officers in bathing while I was in a bathing suit. I did not know they were hunting me. Saturday night I attended a dance at Paragon Park and chatted today that officers missed me by a few minutes.

"Barney told me when we were arrested for the Chelsea affair that he did not intend to shoot Deininger. He used to worry about it in his cell while awaiting trial. It prevented him from sleeping.

"He told me over and over again that if he ever got out his sole aim would be to help the dead policeman's family and I know he would keep at it, that he meant every word. Barney is a clever stenographer and was ambitious. He didn't care what he did as he has been painted."

Former Lieutenant-Governor Edward F. Barry, of No. 10 Tremont street, counsel for Dillon, said today:

"The Middlesex county authorities have been exceedingly considerate and fair. They have worked on a level in the auto cases and have done a big service to the community, but in the complaints against Dillon there is a hitch somewhere. Apparently the complaints were based on the confession of some member of the gang, who is trying to unload his guilt on others.

"For example, one charge cites that Dillon stole a car on June 17, 1919, when, as a matter of fact he was in the Charles street jail unable either to steal or receive stolen property. The Suffolk country records will show that Dillon and Barney were placed on trial in Boston on June 18 and Dillon, whom I defended, was acquitted on June 26. This is an error on its face. Dillon has nothing to conceal. He has been leading a good life since his conviction. There is much of promise in him."

VOLSTEAD WINS COURT FIGHT FOR NOMINATION

Benson, Minn., July 21.—Congressman Volstead, author of the prohibition enforcement act, has won his court contest for the Republican Congressional nomination from the Rev. O. J. Kvale, who had been declared the winner at the recent primaries. District Judge Johnson disqualified the clergyman.

OIL PROBE IS ORDERED BY PALMER'S DEPARTMENT

Washington, July 21.—The Department of Justice has ordered an investigation of the operations of oil producers and other oil interests, it became known today. The investigation was undertaken after charges had reached the department that Western oil interests, particularly in California, were following practices which violated the Lever act.

STUNNED BY LIGHTNING IN WAITING ROOM

Manchester, N. H., July 21.—Pambli Metsano, of No. 161 Lake avenue, was stunned by a bolt of lightning which followed a telephone wire at the street railway waiting station at Elm and Carpenter streets during a heavy shower which passed over this city. Metsano was revived by the police with the pulmotor and taken to his home.

WORCESTER BUILDER CHARGED WITH FRAUD

Providence, July 21.—Edward M. Barber, aged twenty-five, of No. 1355 Pleasant street, Worcester, a building contractor, was arrested here charged with obtaining money with intent to defraud Dr. Leonard E. Norris of No. 578 Broadway, this city. The advancement of money on a contract resulted in his arrest, according to the police.

IF WEAK, THIN OR NERVOUS DON'T WORRY

Try The Bitro-Phosphate Health System—$300 Guarantee

NEW YORK. If you are feeling run-down, weak, nervous, tired-in-the-morning and generally ailing, these are the symptoms that should warn you to take care of your health. Four persons in every ten are needing more phosphorus in their bodies. When you are thin and restless people, you have not the muscular pads, frail, slit-shouldered look and lack energy. You may have the speed of nervousness that leads to a strong constitution.

Some people, after relying upon reconstructions composed chiefly of salts, quinine, arsenic drugs, iron, calomel, cod-liver oil, etc., wonder why they find no benefit. That's easily explained by the fact that such persons need the phosphoric element, which is a most important factor in Nature's own tonic, contained in BITRO-PHOSPHATE, the real health preparation. Now obtainable everywhere.

The right thing for you to do is make a trial of BITRO-PHOSPHATE beginning at once. It is not a patent medicine; the formula is prescribed by many physicians for the ailments with which we connect the name. Get a few cents' worth of BITRO-PHOSPHATE from your druggist today and a $300 guarantee. Just a box of BITRO-PHOSPHATE. If it is sold and recommended by all good druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Soviet War Minister Orders No Mercy for Physicians Who Exempt "Slackers"

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND,
Boston American Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, July 21.—The vigor and zeal with which the Russian Soviet government is prosecuting the war against Poland, and the measures it is taking to weed out corruption and to instill strict discipline, are shown by the wholesale executions in Moscow during the past week for bribery and other forms of corruption in connection with "slackers" trying to evade military service.

No fewer than sixty-two men, including numerous physicians who acted on the central recruiting and medical boards of the war office conscription commission, were put to death by shooting for granting, in return for bribes, certificates of physical unfitness, according to authoritative information, which has reached me from Moscow.

It is asserted on the best authority that 8,000 men have been thus illicitly exempted from army service by corrupt physicians and other members of the medical and control boards of the conscription commission. Altogether the grafters realized 6,000,000 roubles (normally $1,500,000) by corrupt practices.

War Minister Trotzky now has ordered merciless prosecution of the offenders, and last week's executions are the first result. Many physicians and others have been sentenced to between five and twenty years in the penitentiary.

GIRLS!

To keep your face powder on use Derwilo. No touching up all the time to prevent your nose and face from shining. A dip in the nose perspiration, hot sun and wind have no effect on it. Instantly beautifies the complexion. A single application proves it. All druggists refund the money if it fails.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring back color, youthfulness and lustre—Everybody is using it again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

Don't streak or ruin your material in a poor dye. Insist on "Diamond Dyes." Easy directions in package.

"CORNS"

Lift Right Off Without Pain

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.—Advertisement.

CHILDREN TIED; GAS ESCAPES

2 Worcester Girls Near Death; Roped Up by Father; Believe Baby Opened Jet

Worcester, July 21.—Summoned by allegations of cruelty, police officers entered the home of Leo Schwartz in time to prevent the probable death of his three children, two of whom were found tied to pieces of furniture, while gas flowed from an open jet in a kitchen range.

The police found two girls, aged six and four, partly overcome. The oldest child was tied with ropes to a chair, placed between two beds. The youngest girl was securely strapped with ropes to a bedpost. The arms of both were black and blue from the cords.

A baby, two years old, was discovered creeping about the kitchen. It is supposed that the baby accidentally turned on the gas.

Schwartz, whose wife is in Chicago, claimed he secured his children to "keep them out of mischief." He was arrested and sentenced to serve 30 days in jail. Complaints of neighbors resulted in the police visiting the house.

BRICK FROM DYNAMITED CHIMNEY INJURES MAN

One man was injured and several others forced to seek shelter from flying bricks when the 90-foot brick stack of the old Watertown Pumping Station off Pleasant street, Watertown, was dynamited.

James Day, aged 32, of Adams street, Watertown, who was resting under a tree 200 feet away from the stack, was struck on the right leg by a flying missile and suffered a compound fracture of the leg. He was taken to the Waltham Hospital for treatment.

TROOPS GUARD ACCUSED NEGROES TO JAIL DOOR

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—Three negroes arrived at the State Penitentiary here today from Gram, where it was alleged that they attacked a white woman. A squad of machine gunners from the National Guard company at Durham accompanied the train.

PRESIDENT TAKES RIDE AFTER CABINET MEETING

Washington, July 21.—Following the weekly Cabinet meeting at the White House, President Wilson enjoyed a long automobile ride, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson.

WOOD ASKED TO MEET COUNCIL

Lawrence City Government Dissatisfied With Mill Owner's Indefinite Letter

Lawrence, July 21.—Members of the Lawrence city government met in special session today to take action on the mill shut down situation which involves the idleness of 18,000 employes of the four mills of the American Woolen Company.

Mayor William P. White told the council that he awaited a reply from Mr. Wood as to a time and place of meeting him in conference. The Lawrence mayor sent the following letter to the mill magnate on his return from Boston:

"William M. Wood, president American Woolen Company.

"Dear Sir—Your letter of the nineteenth duly received. I regret exceedingly that you are unable to state a definite time when the mills of the American Woolen Company will open.

"It appears to the people of Lawrence that all the reasons advanced for closing, except one, should apply to all the other textile concerns. If this one reason, 'unfavorable propaganda,' has given rise to conditions which would cause you to close the City Council of Lawrence believes that a conference with you might assist in clearing up the atmosphere, and consequently have authorized me to seek an interview with you.

"If you will be kind enough to set a time and place with the City Council, I firmly believe the result will be of advantage to you and the city of Lawrence on the whole. Very respectfully yours,

"WILLIAM P. WHITE,
"Mayor."

The letter was delivered at the Wood home in Andover by Special Investigator William Welch of the mayor's office. It was announced that a reply would be forthcoming today.

At the convention of firemen of the State here a resolution was passed asking that Mr. Wood open his mills throughout New England.

Business men, many of whom despite his attack upon them for profiteering several months ago, believed the first announcements made by the mill head are skeptical about some matters.

"Chicago, July 16, 1920.

"To the Trade:

"The shutting down of the American Woolen Company and other mills will mean the non-delivery of a large quantity of Fall woolens which we had on order and in turn sold.

"We will therefore not be able to fill many styles that were bought by our trade.

"As to just what lot numbers are involved we cannot at this time convey, but as soon as we receive detailed information, we will apprise you.

"We regret this exceedingly, but the matter is quite out of our control as you can readily see.

"Very truly yours,
"ALFRED DECKER & SON."

Fall River, July 21.—The question of curtailment in the local mills has been discussed at length during a meeting of the executive committee of the Cotton Manufacturers' Associations.

Nothing of a definite nature has been announced for the present but it is understood that several mills other than those previously announced are planning to shut down sections of their machinery while others will run four days a week commencing August 2.

Women Don Earmuffs To Keep Out Noise

New York, July 21.—Earmuffs—the latest for women!

They are not worn for style, however, but for utility, and only in a neighborhood covering a few square blocks in upper Manhattan.

It all came out when residents of Riverside Drive in the vicinity of 123d street, brought Edwin H. Ridgeway into court to answer to a complaint, charging that his firm, the Ridgeway Steel Products Company, created a public nuisance by the noises of the riphammers in its uptown factory.

The women said they had to wear earmuffs in their homes, so great was the din. The Magistrate reserved decision in the case.

ELKS DESCEND ON HARDING

Senator Opens "Front Porch" Campaign for Brother Members; Lauds Order

Marion, O., July 21.—Findlay Lodge, No. 75, Order of Elks, of Findlay, Ohio, called Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican nominee, from his office, and forced him to open formally his "front porch" campaign. As a brother Elk, the Senator could not refuse, and he showed no reluctance in complying.

"I am proud to be an Elk," the Senator told his brother Elks. "I am proud to belong to an order the spirit of which was proved in the late war. It is a great thing for the order that its reputation is won for charitable and benevolent deeds performed in the name of humanity.

"I am genuinely gratified and pleased that you came to visit me as a brother than as the candidate of a party for a great office, and I am equally pleased that yours is a non-partisan body, that among you now are men who do not belong to the political organization to the principles of which I subscribe, but who come in the spirit of friendship which characterizes the order."

The lodge is arranging for a homecoming of Elks at Findlay during the week July 31 to August 6. Senator Harding has promised to attend the affair if engagements permit.

SOLD MEAT SUNDAY, LICENSE IS REVOKED

Haverhill, July 21.—George U. Lapham's license to keep his store open on Sunday to sell papers was revoked by the Municipal Council because he had been convicted in the District Court of selling meats on the Sabbath. Commissioner of Public Safety Albert L. Bartlett, stated that a number of others have violated the law and will be haled into court.

STUDY COMET AT HARVARD

Professors Seek to Verify Discovery of Astral Body by Frenchman

Harvard astronomers were today studying the plates made of the heavens in the region where Schaumasse of Nice is reported to have discovered his new comet on July 18. An attempt is being made to certify the discovery of the new planet by Professors Bailey and King at the observatory in Cambridge.

A cablegram to the members of the Harvard Observatory staff from M. Lepaute, director of the Central Bureau of Astronomical Telegrams at Lecle, Belgium, announced the discovery. The cablegram transmitted a message from M. Fayet of the Nice observatory.

In a later telegram from M. Fayet received at the Harvard observatory he says he finds that Schaumasse's comet is identical with the comet known as Tempel II., with a perihelion advanced six and one-half days.

The comet was in the ascension 1 hour 47 minutes and 42 seconds, declimation minus 1 degree 14 minutes.

Profiteers Barred at Harding Exercises

Marion, O., July 21.—There will be no room in Marion for profiteers next Thursday, when Senator Warren G. Harding is to be officially notified of his nomination by the Republican party as its candidate for the Presidency, according to Dr. Crissinger, president of the Marion Civic Association.

The association has made preparation to feed 100,000 people two meals on the day of the celebration. Dr. Crissinger declared. He said the association has discussed prices with merchants and restaurant keepers and that reasonable prices will prevail.

AURORA CLOCK TELLS TIME ALL OVER WORLD

Aurora, Ill., July 21.—This city has a clock that is the curiosity of sightseers from all parts of the world. William Blanford, its inventor, spent a lifetime in perfecting it. The great clock simultaneously tells the time in all parts of the world and records atmospheric changes and astronomical conditions. Besides, it automatically lights up at night. It is driven by fifty-pound weights. Blanford recently died at the age of eighty-two years.

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination—the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of human existence,—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of the waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes,—let them be interrupted or improperly carried on, and sickness of some kind follows.

Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism,—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons,—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the conditions responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body.

Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets). In so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days,—must help you, must do you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you nothing.

And Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the whole system. You'll feel like a new person when you've taken NR Tablets a week. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

MUST SHOW WHY PEACE LAW MAY NOT BE ISSUED

Washington, July 21.—Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby and Henry J. Brown, editor of laws of the State Department, are directed to show cause, July 26, before the District of Columbia Supreme Court, why they should not be compelled to promulgate as law the treaty of peace with Germany, by a rule issued by Chief Justice McCoy.

The order was issued as a result of consideration of a petition filed by Harry S. McCartney, a Chicago lawyer, last Saturday, suing in the capacity of a tax-payer.

MAINE COLLEGE BOY JAILED

Surrenders to California Police After Cashing Worthless Bank Drafts

Berkeley, Cal., July 21.—Suffering from the effects of wartime shell shock, Herbert G. Partridge, a law student of the University of California, graduate of the University of Maine, surrendered to the police here after cashing worthless drafts for $1,875 on a Berkeley bank.

His father is a well-to-do lumber in Bearsport, Me. Young Partridge during the war was a lieutenant in the U. S. Army Air Service. He came from active duty in France a victim of shell shock. While in France he also fell several thousand feet in an airplane accident, in which his mechanician was killed. This, aggravated by a natural highly nervous condition, is declared to have temporarily unbalanced the youth.

Medical attention, as the only way in which a cure Partridge of the ill effects of his war service, is urged by Dr. Jay Chen Ball, psychiatrist, to conducted the examination of him.

Coming to Berkeley at the opening of the last Spring semester at the University of California, Partridge drove from Boston in a large racing car. He established himself in a local hotel. Several weeks after his arrival he purchased a lighter racing car and was a familiar figure about the streets of the city in his expensive machines.

STATIONARY FIREMEN HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION

Lawrence, July 21.—The annual state convention of stationary firemen was brought to a close here with the election of officers as follows: President, William Dupont, Boston; first vice-president, Thomas F. Quinn, Lowell; second vice-president, William J. O'Donnell, Lawrence; third vice-president, Patrick J. Cruise, Peabody; secretary-treasurer, Daniel Silva, Fall River. The stand taken by Senator David I. Walsh on the Irish question was endorsed with a set of resolutions. Fall River was chosen as the next meeting place of the convention.

PHONE GIRLS HIT AT COOLIDGE

Refuse to Take Part in Labor Day Parade If Reviewed by Governor

The Boston Telephone Operators Union has gone on record against Governor Coolidge as the result of its action in refusing to parade on Labor Day if the governor is to review the marchers. Plans to have about 2,000 operators on gaily colored floats and in line, taken part in the Labor Day parade, following action was taken by the executive board of the organization.

The meeting was called to act on the Boston Central Labor Union's vote taken last Sunday to extend an invitation to Governor Coolidge. Miss Annie Molloy, secretary of the union, was instructed by the members of the board to notify the Central Labor Union that the invitation to the Governor must be withdrawn or the telephone operators will not parade.

The union's president, Miss Mary E. June, in speaking of the executive board's action, stated that the meeting was called at the demand of a large number of the members of the union, who insisted that the organization must go on record against allowing Governor Coolidge the honor of reviewing the Boston telephone operators.

WOBURN-BILLERICA CAR LINE FACES SUSPENSION

Trolley service between Woburn and Billerica will "in all probability" be completely suspended this fall, according to an official announcement from Fred S. Cummings, representative of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company. Coupled with this announcement Mr. Cummings declared that the Woburn and Boston line "is not a paying proposition" and that, according to law, the company is virtually compelled to suspend service when the patronage is insufficient to cover even the expense of operation.

SEND BODY OF HARVARD DROWNING VICTIM HOME

The body of Kenneth H. The body was shipped from Arlington, upon receipt of word from his parents.

Nantasket Wants More Band Concerts

Summer residents at Nantasket Beach are circulating petitions, requesting the Massachusetts District Commission to restore the band concerts that have been done away with this season. In place of the daily afternoon and evening concerts given at the Beach bandstand last Summer, two concerts on Saturday and two on Sunday have been substituted.

H. S. Jewett of No. 541 Commercial street, East Weymouth, a follower of the band concerts for many years, has protested to the committee in charge of the concerts and has been told that people who are used to the music furnished by the professional players last season can easily get used to the new band composed of amateur players who take the trip to the beach on Saturdays and Sundays more for the recreation than for the business.

Mr. Jewett says that he has been furnished with information by the District Commission that $35,000 has been appropriated this year, which is $5,000 more than in previous years.

EXAMINE BLOOD OF LEPERS

Medical Experts to Make Further Tests of Penikese Island Patients

Careful examination was made today of the blood and culture "tests" made on the two leprosy patients now at the Detention Hospital on Southampton street, to determine whether they have been cured.

Several more tests, which are under the supervision of Dr. Bernard Carey of the State Department of Health, assisted by Dr. Victor Heiser of the New York Board of Health, will be conducted before a decision can be made as to the success of the examination.

Bacteriological "smears" were taken as the first step in the examination, but no report can be made upon the result of this test for at least a day, since that much time is required for analysis of the culture, as in the tests for diphtheria.

The patients reached Boston after a trip by launch from Penikese Island, in Buzzards Bay, where the State leper colony is located, to the mainland and thence by automobile for the remainder of the distance. Since the State has no detention hospital here, rooms in the city's detention hospital have been provided for the tests through the courtesy of the local health board. While the men are in confinement they are being fed from special dishes.

14,000 TONS OF COAL HERE ON TWO STEAMERS

On her first passage to Boston in nearly three years the steamship Melrose, Captain White, arrived from Baltimore, with 6,952 tons of coal. The Melrose was used in the transport service until the armistice was signed. Since then she has been engaged in the coal trade to foreign ports. The steamship Everett, owned by the same company, brought 7,316 tons of coal.

Clogged-Up Liver Causes Headache

The liver is one of the regulators of health. If the liver is active and well, good health and happiness are encouraged, but once you allow your liver to get torpid and sluggish, life becomes a misery. Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation, Headaches and Melancholy may appear, resulting in lack of energy, loss of memory and ill health; but remember Carter's Little Liver Pills touch the liver and correct all liver ills.

You Can't Brush or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

Fashionable clothes, VALUE to boot!

AN IDEA is always bigger than the words which express it. Way back in the old days when the little Filene store at the corner of Washington and Winter streets was adding one building after another and growing like a boy of ten years, we adopted for our store trade-mark "Style and Economy."

You may have seen these words underneath the "Filene's" which adorned the old building. But whether you saw the words or not, you saw that Filene style and Filene economy went together if you were one of those who came to Filene's to shop. Filene's grew by adhering to that principle.

The words have passed along into the discard; the idea in back of them has not! Today as then, Filene's stands for Fashion with Value to boot. You will find if you want to dress fashionably and well, and get the full value for your money besides, that now as then

IF MOTHERS ONLY KNEW

Thousands of Children Suffer From Worms and Their Mothers Do Not Know What the Trouble Is.

Signs of worms are: Constipation, sour stomach, deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional grinings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short, dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

Mrs. H. N. Roberts, 502 Asylum Street, Flint, Mich., used Dr. True's Elixir for her little baby girl when she was sick. Mrs. Roberts wrote to Dr. F. True & Co.: "My little girl is relieved of her worms." And in a later letter wrote: "Baby is fine and I think it was your medicine (Dr. True's Elixir) that helped her." If your child is ill start giving Dr. True's Elixir at once. Buy Dr. True's Elixir at your dealer's at once. Three sizes.

PROBE MYSTERY FIRE AT QUINCY

Fire Officials Find Evidence of Oil in Debris of One-Story Structure

The police of Quincy are today investigating a fire that destroyed a one-story building owned by the Badger Brothers on the top of West Quincy Hill. When the apparatus arrived the main building was enveloped in flames and sparks from the burning structure landed on the roof of another building in the rear.

Fire officials report that the main building was saturated with oil on the inside.

IRISH FIT TO RULE SELVES

Functioning of Sinn Fein Courts and Police Proof, Says Lord Monteagle

London, July 21.—Lord Monteagle, author of the subjoined article, in the Irish peer whose bill to grant Ireland dominion home rule was recently defeated in the House of Lords.

By LORD MONTEAGLE

A totally new fact is emerging in Ireland which has hardly yet dawned on the British public, and which the government, so far, has failed to face. Far more significant than spectacular sieges of police barracks or lynching of generals, or even than the sporadic and intermittent railway strikes, is the recent desertion of the King's courts and the place of Sinn Fein courts in their place—the supercession of the Royal Irish constabulary by Sinn Fein police.

SHOWS IRISH CAPABLE.

The Sinn Fein courts are steadily extending their jurisdiction and dispensing justice even-handed between man and man, Catholic and Protestant farmer and shop-keeper, grazier and cattle driver, landlord and tenant.

The Sinn Fein police are arresting burglars, punishing cattle drivers, patrolling the streets, controlling the drink traffic, and recently in some cases with the acquiescence of the local military authorities, who thus show themselves wiser than either the Castle officials or the British government.

And mark the double significance of this new fact. It shows the powerlessness, in Sir Horace Plunkett's phrase, of "government with the consent of the governed." It shows also the growing and remarkable capacity of the Irish people for self-government.

SOLUTION IN DOMINION.

The chief obstacle to a conciliation policy is the North-East Ulster problem. This is now proved insoluble at Westminster; it can only be solved in Ireland by Irishmen. Sinn Fein won't come to Westminster to negotiate with the government, but dominion home rule given—not merely promised or offered—would come to an Irish constituent assembly and negotiate there with North-East Ulster, which might then be in the proud position to keep Ireland—a United Ireland—a willing partner in the British Commonwealth.

PYTHIANS HOLD PRIZE DRILLS AT FALL RIVER

Fall River, July 21. — The thirty-fourth annual session of the District Grand Lodge and the District Grand Court of the New England Knights of Pythias of the Eastern and Western Hemisphere is being held in this city. Many delegates are present from different sections of New England. During a competitive drill among the military companies Company F of Bridgeport defeated Company E of Boston. Prizes for the largest number of new members since the last annual convention were awarded to Fidelity Lodge of New Haven, Wm. C. Nell of Boston, Maceo Lodge of Springfield and E. Day lodge of Hartford.

IGNORED GAMBLING WARNING; FINED $50

Lawrence, July 21.—A fine of $50 was imposed on Michael Bashara of Oak street, in District Court here, for maintaining a gaming house. Nine men were arrested in the tenement occupied by Bashara and each was fined $5. The police warned Bashara to stop "the big game" several weeks ago.

ACID MIXTURE BLOWS UP; BURNS DRUGGIST'S FACE

Lawrence, July 21.—While serving a customer, Frederic Cosgrove, a local druggist was severely burned about the face and hands by a carbolic acid preparation contained in a bottle which burst while he was shaking it. He may be disfigured for life.

Edison at Key First Time in 19 Years

New York, July 21.—Stripping a telegraph key for the first time in nineteen years, Thomas A. Edison "sent" a message to posterity from his home in Orange, N. J. The recital of the instrument as it closed out the inventor's measure was inscribed on an impressionable phonograph record and placed in the archives of the Historical Association here. The message was sent directly to a committee of the old-time telegraphers, and was:

"And the activities of a busy life, full of expectations, hopes and fears, my thoughts of early association with my comrades of the dots and dashes have ever been to me a delight and pleasure. I consider it a great pleasure to record in More characters on an indestructible disc this tribute to my beginnings in electricity through the telegraph and, with it a Godspeed to the fraternity throughout the world."

HUNT FUGITIVE BY AIRPLANE

"Promoter" Flies to Paris, Seizes Second Machine and Makes Escape

Paris, July 21. — John De Lysle, a "promoter," whom Scotland Yard and the Paris police described as "history's first aerial fugitive crook," arrived in Paris six hours before the police here had been notified of his sensational escape from London in an airplane.

FLIES IN SECOND PLANE.

On his arrival he quickly secured another private machine and got away again, presumably heading for Brussels.

British police are giving chase in another airplane from London, and other "pursuit machines" are to join the hunt from French and Belgian points.

The "Flying Crook's" escape has been telegraphed and cabled all over Europe, but it is realized that there are hundreds of possibilities that he may land anywhere in the open country and again get away.

MAY PATROL CHANNEL.

As a result of this first international flight of an alleged criminal, the French and British police are collaborating with a view to establishing a channel air police patrolling the air routes between England and France along similar lines to those followed by the New York air police. Colonel DeMott Thompson, who is now in Paris, has been asked to give his advice as to how best to proceed in establishing such service.

Cucumbers, 25 Cents a Bushel; No Buyers

Laurel, Del., July 21.—Growers of cucumbers here are wondering what city consumers are paying for their product. They can't sell at any price.

The bottom dropped out of the cucumber market completely. The price had been $1 a bushel. It fell to 25 cents, and when telegraphic reports announced the markets glutted, brokers refused to buy entirely.

There are several carloads here now awaiting consignment.

MERCHANDISE UP TO STANDARD

Our Chief Aim Is To Make Goods Cumulative

CUMULATIVE is a big word. The dictionary treats it as "Gathering volume, strength or value by addition or repetition; steadily increasing." We like it—like it so well that we have woven it into the Hovey lexicon to stay.

In many stores the prime object of a sale is to get rid of some merchandise. In this store the prime object of every sale is to make many more sales to the same patron.

Right here comes in the wisdom of the dictionary. The word cumulative means more than gathering volume. It means gathering value. We figure that the latter leads to the former. We know it does—and we know it shall continue to do so in this store.

Every hour of every day we devote to the adding of even more value to what we sell.

And that is the direct route to cumulative volume of business and friends.

SOLUTION FOR RENT WORRIES

Problems of Tenants and Landlord Answered by Rent and Housing Commission

Here's a little catechism for tenants worried over increase in rentals threatened by their landlords. The answers to these questions are based on rulings made by the Mayor's Rent and Housing Committee:

TENANT: Can my landlord increase my rent more than 25 per cent.?

ANSWER: Under the law he cannot. He cannot even raise it 25 per cent. If you can show that such increase is "unjust and unreasonable."

TENANT: If my landlord threatens to increase my rent more than 25 per cent., what must I do?

ANSWER: simply tell him you refuse to pay it.

TENANT: But can he put me out?

ANSWER: Not until he has served you with a notice of eviction.

TENANT: What must I do then?

ANSWER: When the landlord serves you with a notice of eviction, that eviction is returnable the following Saturday in the Municipal Court of the section in which you live. For instance: If you live in Dorchester, the notice would be returnable in the Dorchester Municipal Court; in Roxbury, in the Roxbury Municipal Court, etc. On the Saturday on which the notice of eviction is returnable, all you would have to do would be to appear before the judge of that court and tell him personally, when he is ready to hear your case, the reasons why you believe the increase in rent demanded is excessive, and ask him to refuse to vacate your tenement or apartment. Your reasons must be that you could not secure suitable living quarters for yourself and family anywhere else in a suitable neighborhood in the city similar to that which you are asked to move from; that you have used due and reasonable effort to secure such living quarters, and that you will abide by such decision as the court may choose to make after hearing your story and the story of your landlord.

TENANT: What happens then?

ANSWER: The judge may decide to let you stay in your present living quarters for a period not exceeding six months. However, you must have paid your rent up to date.

TENANT: Supposing I pay my landlord the 25 per cent. increase he asks, can he raise me 25 per cent. more next year, 25 per cent. more the third year and 25 per cent. more the fourth year, until he has doubled my rent?

ANSWER: Under the law he cannot. There is nothing to be secured in Twenty-five Per Cent. Bill that will permit the rent to be increased in such a way, and you can refuse to pay the increase, as stated above, even now. If you consider the 25 per cent. increase unjust.

TENANT: Supposing my landlord presents me with a lease calling for more than a 25 per cent. increase in rent. Supposing he attaches a clause to that lease and asks me to sign it. The clause stating that his explanations of conditions and surroundings appeared perfectly satisfactory to me and that I signed such a lease. What would happen then?

ANSWER: Your landlord has no right, in the first place, to attach such clauses to a lease. Your lease binds you to what is contained within the four corners of the paper upon which the lease is written, and whatever clause your landlord chooses to put on the back of the lease, which he requires you to sign, is invalid and has no standing in court. This, however, need not prevent your landlord from trying his case in court.

TENANT: But some lawyers say it has.

ANSWER: And other lawyers say it has not. Remember, that some of the best legal minds in the State, framed the Twenty-Five Per Cent. Law which was passed by the Legislature and signed by a good lawyer, Governor Coolidge. The so-called Twenty Five Per Cent. Law is an emergency act for the preservation of public health and convenience. If declares that unjust agreements for house rent shall be unenforcible. Your landlord, in asking you to sign any clause which would require you to do something contrary to this law, asks you to do something ill-ad.

TENANT: So I understand that my landlord cannot raise me more than 25 per cent?

ANSWER: Yes, unless he can show the court that because of increased expenses the increased rental is just.

TENANT: What date should I use as the basis to determine whether the decrease rental asked is more than 25 per cent?

ANSWER: One year previous to the date the landlord makes the demand for the increase.

For instance: If your landlord notifies you that on September first your rent will be increased more than 25 per cent., you should find out what rent you were paying September 1st, 1919. If the new rent demanded is 25 per cent. more than the rent you were paying September 1st, 1919, it is presumptively an unjust increase.

TENANT: Will this new Twenty-Five Per Cent. Law back me up in refusing to pay more than 25 per cent. increase?

ANSWER: Yes, it will. If you have any doubt of it, take your case to the Mayor's Rent and Housing Committee, and if you are not satisfied with their disposition of the case, then take it to court.

TENANT: Must I hire a lawyer to go to court?

ANSWER: Not necessarily. If you have an average command of the English language, there is no reason why you cannot tell the Judge your reasons for refusing to pay the increase in rent just as well as anybody else.

CHINESE MONARCHISTS ROUT GEN. CHI-JUI'S ARMY

London, July 21.—The Chinese army of General Tuan Chi-Jui, defeated by General Wu Pie Fu, is falling back upon Pekin, pursued by the victorious troops of General Chang Tso-Lin, and a battle is threatened on the outskirts of the city, according to a Central News dispatch from the Chinese capital today. The war in Northern China is being waged by two powerful political factions. According to reports the Wu Pie-Fu faction seeks to restore the monarchial form of government. At last reports all the Europeans and Americans in Pekin were safe. The gates of the city had been closed to prevent the entrance of troops.

HINTS TO REDUCE AUTO THEFTS

Reverse Locking of Transmission One of Many Schemes Suggested

By C. F. DONNOCKER

Automobile thefts have played such a prominent part in the police records this season that owners are puzzled to find methods of securely locking their cars. Many devices are on the market, each one having its good points, but still cars are stolen daily.

Many owners employ locks which are used on the transmission. The transmission is usually locked in the "neutral" position. This, however, does not prevent the car from being towed away. Locking the transmission in reverse would be better, but would be pretty hard to back a car any distance on a street without an officer asking why it was being done.

There are devices to put on the tire, which leave a clear imprint on asphalt or dirt and make a loud enough noise to warn everyone that a car equipped with this device is coming and the rewards offered by the makers of the device help stop thefts.

Another very good device is one attached to the steering wheel, and prevents it from being used as the wheel, when locked, simply turns around and around on the steering column but will not steer the machine. This device is impossible to foil, unless a towing apparatus is used and the front wheels are set up on this. Altogether the device seems very good.

Some owners take the "breaker" out of the distributor and render the motor useless. Any such device which hinders the thief from jumping in the car and driving off without trouble, is a good thing to help insure safety from theft.

SHERIFF LORD IS OPPOSED BY VETERAN

Keene, N. H., July 21. — Sheriff Edward H. Lord who was cast in authority to County Solicitor Roy M. Pickard in conducting the investigation of the Dean murder case, and who has been criticised for his failure to locate the murderer, will have opposition if he decides to run for the office at the primaries on September 14, Bernard J. Gillio, former army lieutenant, in France during the world war, announced his candidacy for sheriff on the Cheshire County on the Republican ticket.

U. S. AND BRITAIN IN NEW COPYRIGHT PACT

Washington, July 21.—American authors under a reciprocal plan agreed to by the United States and Great Britain, are given copyright privileges in Great Britain for works which are published not later than thirty days after the official final determination of the war," between all the Central Powers and the British government, a date which must be hereafter determined," the State Department announced today. British authors will have the same privileges in the United States.

GIRL LOCKED IN LIBRARY SENDS S. O. S. VIA PHONE

Kansas City, Kan., July 21.—Miss Minnie Stanton is fond of reading. She is also a regular visitor at the public library. Never again though will she become so absorbed in a book that she forgets to look at the clock occasionally.

The other night she failed to watch the clock and, consequently, found herself locked in.

Fearing to notify the night watchman, she decided to remain all night. Then she heard a noise—maybe 'twas a burglar—and sent an S. O. S. to the police via telephone.

DOCTOR CONTINUES OPERATION DURING FIRE

Dorra, Col., July 21—With the roof of the hospital ablaze, Dr. J. W. McArthur, head surgeon, continued the operation upon a patient here. While the patient was on the operating table fire broke out on the roof directly over the operating room. But the surgeon continued his work. "It required all the nerve I could muster," he remarked.

ASK MR. FIXIT

Mr. Fixit:
As a constant reader of your columns, I would like to know the cause of a Buick Model 24. The rear end grats and shrieks when running in high gear. Please tell me how to make an adjustment. Thanking you in advance for your kind favors.

A READER—A. L. P.

Lowell.

You can have a clutch lining for your Buick which will probably be counterwise for the criteria. If you have never relined a clutch, would advise a competent mechanic for directions. It is pretty hard to tell in the dark, but I think that the noise you complain of is caused by the gears being misadjusted in the differential. The noise may come from the clutch also being out of line or a loose ring gear.

Dear Mr. Fixit:
I have a 1919 Dort and after running a mile or two the motor gets very hot. To start I prime with gasoline and the starter engages and runs smoothly but the motor is balked and the radiator boils. I have failed to stop the heating. The circulation, and valves are O. K. Hoping that you can suggest a remedy that overcomes this heating in your columns, and thanking you in advance, I am,

Newport.

Be sure that your motor is timed correctly. Do this simply by turning the crankshaft. If the motor is actually out of time, you will not notice the loss of power and make sure that you have the motor properly timed. Turn the fly wheel around slowly and see the marking, top centre 1, turn a little more and you will see another V-shaped marking, with the spark fully retarded, the breaker point should be open at this mark. If the motor is about one-half inch past dead centre, the spark will be fully retarded. Then strip, overhaul and thoroughly flush out the whole system, using a hose with good pressure. If all of this is done, believe that your motor will not heat up.

Mr. Fixit: Would like to find out what is the trouble in my 1915 Metz touring car. I had battery charged and plugs seem to be O. K., but car has not good compression. Can not start it.

If you will tell us what your difficulty is we will be able to help you. Your letter does not state if the trouble is in running whether the engine misses or stalls or you cannot start it.

Mr. Fixit: Mr Overland, which is a model 83-B, makes a grinding noise when running comes to the right and sometimes on the straight road. What can be done?

Your Overland is a 83-A or B. There is no 83-B, but in 1916 model 83-A had cloth and 83-B had leather upholstery. Your 1920 year model had additional to your ring gear set. Most likely this caused the grinding in the ring gear.

Mr. Fixit: Could you tell me how I can remedy a noise in my Studebaker? It has been thoroughly cleaned of carbon, and valves ground, but still makes a noise. Is it crankshaft or connecting rod bearing?

M. F. Roxbury, Mass.

There are several kinds of noises which might occur in your car. A knock may come from a loose crankshaft or worn connecting rod bearing. It might be an ignition knock caused by too late a spark. A pinging noise is caused by too early a spark. All of these may be it might help us in eliminating your trouble. A rattling noise may occur from an improper carburetor adjustment.

AUTO RACING IS HERE TO STAY

Success of Recent Meets Assures Permanency of Sport; See Boom in Fall

The revival of automobile racing, which has been evident for some time in this vicinity, seems assured, judging from the enthusiasm displayed by the spectators at every meet which has been held.

Motor car racing on half-mile dirt tracks is without any doubt one of the most exciting sports on the calendar. The Boston public had a taste of it, on July 3 when "Wild Bill" Endicott in his Velie Bluebeard broke the record for this State, covering the mile on a half-mile dirt track in 1 minute and 11 seconds. On July 17, at Worcester, he broke this record, doing the mile in 1.10,4-5.

PLEASED WITH EVENT.

Secretary Livingstone of the Worcester Dealers' Association and A. J. Shores, vice-president of the N. A. D. A., were spectators and were greatly pleased with the events presented. The reception accorded the racers in all the events showed that the public likes and wants auto races.

Almost every big city in the country has held auto races and they have always proved a drawing card. The races which are now being held in various cities are run under proper supervision and backed by an organization of Boston business men, known as the New England Automobile Racing Association, and the success of the first three meets has assured the motorists of New England of many more races this season.

There is a thrill to dirt track racing that is lacking on the hard speedway tracks. The drivers go into the turns in a cloud of dust which hides them from view for the moment and then straighten out for the high speed on the stretches.

SEE BOOM THIS FALL.

Undoubtedly motor races will be one of the leading attractions at many of the county fairs throughout New England this Fall and the sport, once thoroughly entrenched, will be a feature for years to come.

Bill Endicott is greatly pleased with the success of the three meets in which he has driven and said yesterday that he believed that motor races would be a prominent event this season throughout New England.

"In all my experience as a race driver," says Endicott, "I have never seen the racing crowds so wild as the races were run 'on the level.' The public enjoys them and the owners of the various cars represented are always enthusiastic over the performance of their favorites.

While of course, the drivers figure prominently in the races, especially on these half-mile dirt tracks, the cars must show speed in order to be in the running, and stamina is needed to go through the race cavorting as which they are subjected. It is a great sport and a clean one and that is why it is so popular."

OVERLAND FOUR CLIMBS LOWELL CITY HALL STEPS

The Overland model 4, now known as the "Mr. Washington Record Car," went over to Lowell last Monday to pay its respects to Mayor Perry Thompson. In order to relieve his Honor of any unnecessary steps, the car was driven up the steps to the City Hall right into the doorway.

The Mayor received the driver and the vast crowd which thronged the square cheered both car and driver when it went up the steps and just as loudly when it came back. It was just another demonstration of the sturdy construction and climbing ability of the Overland 4.

STEPHENS INNER TIRES ARRIVE

Patent Suction Cups Novel Feature of This Make, Says Mr. MacNeil

Farley & MacNeill, the well-known accessory dealers of No. 107 Federal street, have received a carload of Stephens inner tires. Mr MacNeil, who is an old-time motorist and remembers when even the treads from old shoes were used to reinforce tires, believes that this new line will prove a winner with automobilists.

"There are many times," says Mr MacNeill, "that a shoe seems to be going bad on the tread or just above the head, and a liner will add many miles to the wear. These inner tyres are not called 'reliner.' They are built differently. Patented suction cups prevent creeping, which heats up the tires and reduces the mileage.

"We are so sure of these Stephens liner Tyres, that we are offering to refund the purchase money after a thirty-day trial, if they prove unsatisfactory.

"Many a shoe will give considerable more mileage if the pressure of the inner tube on the casing can be removed. This is the work done by the liner tyre. Built of several piles of high quality fabric and covered with a cushion of rubber on the tread, the liner tyres actually add to the riding qualities of the car and go a long ways towards eliminating blow-outs and punctures. Every motorist knows what the old 'blow out patches' accomplish and can appreciate the value of an inner tire such as the Stephens."

BOSTON AUTO DEALER'S SON INJURED BY CAR

Earl Wicks, ten-year-old son of Bernard Wicks, a Boston automobile dealer, was struck and injured by an automobile while skimming across Kenberma street, at Nantasket. Frank K. Rodgers, of No. 48 Beach street, Kenberma, was operating the machine at the time of the accident and pushed the injured boy to the Sturgis Hospital in Allerton.

Women Advised How to Register to Vote

Mrs. True Worthy White, of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, is writing for the Boston American a series of articles telling women how to become registered for full suffrage in the Fall.

Because it seems quite probable that a thirty-sixth State will ratify the amendment, and because women, through inexperience, may be denied presidential suffrage, by neglecting to register or through the failing to understand the various steps leading to registration, Mrs. White will explain all the details. The third article follows:

By MRS. TRUE WORTHY WHITE.

Perhaps, in our third talk on registration, it would be well to consider some of the rules which make a citizen eligible for registration. In Massachusetts, of course, no one may actually vote until he is properly registered. A native born citizen, a naturalized citizen, more than twenty-one years of age, who is neither a pauper, nor under guardianship, may vote.

The candidate must, moreover, be able to read a paragraph of the Constitution, and write his or her own name. The candidate must also have resided in the Commonwealth, one year, and within the town or city where he or she will vote, at least six months preceding the town, city or State election. This statute now applies to male citizens.

The word male will be left out when women have the vote. Probably no other change will be made in the present law. The authority is in Chapter 335, Acts of 1913.

The right to vote implies the duty to vote right!

FOOD UP 4 P. C. IN BOSTON

Retail Prices Increased in 39 Cities, Decreased in 12, Since January

Washington, July 21.— While wholesale prices of food in June dropped 2% per cent., retail prices advanced 2 per cent., or an increase of 5 per cent. since January, according to the Department of Labor's bureau of statistics.

Retail prices increased in thirty-nine cities and decreased in twelve. In Boston and Springfield the jump was 4 per cent.; 3 per cent. in Bridgeport, 2 per cent. in Fall River and Providence, and 1 per cent. in New Haven.

The greatest increase in the past year, 23 per cent, was shown in Springfield, Ill., and the lowest, 8 per cent. in Charleston, S. C. Only two cities out of the thirty-nine, Jacksonville and Los Angeles, showed less than 100 per cent. increase since 1912. Detroit led the list with 123 per cent. During June wholesale prices of clothing dropped 3½ per cent., but fuel and lighting increased over 4 per cent.

BRISCOE WINS
In Rim-of-World Economy Run

Averages Over 30 Miles Per Gallon on Stiff Mountain Roads—Under Sanction of the A. A. A.

Much is being said and done, and much advertising is being done—some of it authentic and some of it fictitious—regarding the performance of automobiles.

Wish to call to the attention of the public the records made by the Briscoe under the sanction of the A. A. A. in competition with other cars. There is no arguing the point but what the Briscoe won this Rim-of-the-World Economy Run under the A. A. This year's event, beginning Saturday, June 5th, and ending Monday, June 7th, was handled excellently. Briscoe won the Class A cup, for cars priced up to $3500.

The first leg was from San Bernardino to Little Bear Lake, with many sociability cars following the competitors. After good things to eat, and some enjoyment of Nature's majesty, on to Big Bear Lake for more, and to sleep. Sunday motor-boating, fishing, hiking, dancing to the music of San Bernardino's Elks' Band, and a barbecue. That afternoon and Monday, home via Mill Creek Canyon Road.

One hundred miles of the contest was over what any but a native would call very rough, which gives significance to the performances shown in the accompanying table.

'OTHER WOMAN' THE CAUSE

Norwood Mother Admits Killing Husband After Quarrel Over "Affinity"

Accused of shooting her husband through the heart last night during a bitter quarrel about another woman, Mrs. Michael Frucci of No. 52 Dean street, Norwood, was arraigned in Dedham court today on a murder charge.

While the police allege the woman has admitted the shooting, she made no plea. She was remanded to Norfolk county jail, pending investigation.

Mrs. Frucci is declared to have told officers who entered the house after the shot was heard that she was jealous of her husband and that he neglected her and their three children.

She is said to have further asserted that he was living with "the other woman" in a flat in Boston, and only visited her on rare occasions.

BOTHNER THIRD MAN IN THE RING WITH STECKER AND GARDINI

VETERAN IS PICKED AS REFEREE

All Details for Big Wrestling at Revere Bike Oval Now Complete

By JACK CONWAY.

George Bothner of New York has been selected to referee the title wrestling bout between Joe Stecher and Renato Gardini at the Revere cycle track tomorrow night. Bothner is one of the world's leading authorities on the mat game and the fact he will be the third man in the ring will add interest to the match. The New Yorker refereed the championship contest between Stecher and Caddock last Winter.

The naming of the referee completed all the details for the tussle at the beach oval. Interest in the match is at high pitch and it is expected that the biggest crowd to ever witness a wrestling bout in the east will be on hand when featherweight Gardini has completed his strenuous training. He planned to take a light workout at Natanis today so that he will be fit when he enters the ring with the champion.

Plans Bout for Winner of Martin-Nelson Battle

Matchmaker Tom Goodwin of the Coliseum A. C. of Quincy plans to match the winner of the twelve-round bout between Vincent Martin and Walter Nelson of Brooklyn, carded for the Quincy Club for tomorrow night with the victor of the tussle between Johnny Kilbane and Artie Pont who takes place at Coliseum Saturday evening. The Martin-Nelson battle was originally carded for last Wednesday night but was postponed on account of the weather.

Martin is in training at the Riverside Boat Club for the contest tomorrow night. A large number of his fans will journey to Quincy to take in the show.

Newlywed Paul Doyle Back in Boston

Paul Doyle, clever welterweight, is back in our midst once more. He is accompanied by his bride of a few weeks. Now that he is a full-fledged benedict, Doyle intends to keep busier than ever in the ring. Maybe the high prices have something to do with Doyle's decision.

A bout with Young Kirby is Doyle's objective. Tony Palosolo, Doyle's manager, charges that the Y. B. champion is avoiding a meeting with his protege. There is more truth than poetry to this statement.

Call Up Memories of Old-Time Ringsters

George A. Wright, former Canadian bantamweight champion, called at this office today. The veteran is one of the few men who is able to boast of a victory over George Dixon. Wright went on the stage after he retired from the ring. His health then went back on him and for two years he has been an inmate of the Tuberculosis Hospital at Natanpas. Dr. White, who is in charge of this hospital, has informed the fan-mailing fate of other years that he will be fully recovered from his illness with in a few months. Wright is very glad to talk over the days when fighters were fighters with any of the old timers who have time to call on him at the hospital.

122 PLAYING FOR STATE TITLE

Big Field of Golfers Tee Off at Clyde Park Links Today

One hundred and twenty-two amateur golfers teed off at Clyde Park [illegible] of the Massachusetts State Amateur golf championship [illegible] Country Club Brookline today.

It was not expected that low scores would prevail and that less than 144 would have to be made in order to get into the match play tomorrow.

The [illegible] had been playing better [illegible] than it was when the last part started on the qualifying round. The fairways had been improved [illegible] wonderfully, the ball showing a tendency to roll great distances in the practice rounds.

Jesse Guilford, who is being picked as a likely winner of the title event that [illegible] to come to out half a card of 38 in a true [illegible] he went out in 35 and came back in the same number. Rodney Browne's two 38s also occasioned much favorable comment.

Barnes Leads Golfers' Over Shawnee Course

Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa., July 21.—The largest and best field that ever competed in the annual open golf tournament began play on the course of the Shawnee Country Club here.

Jim Barnes, the title holder who returned from England last Saturday, added two rounds of 72 each for a total of 144, and led at the end of the first half of the tournament.

The gallery was disappointed in one instance, and that was when they heard the news that Harry Vardon had decided that he could not enter the tournament owing to a sprained thumb.

It is evident that Barnes, who hails from the Sunset Club of St. Louis, is trying very hard to repeat his victory of last year. The pace set landed him home in front of a batch of topnotchers by [illegible] scores.

In the second [illegible] after a [illegible] and then [illegible] that will [illegible] same board of golf's [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] total of 144 bettered several other [illegible] the next being that of Jerge McLean [illegible] long professional of Great Neck, who had 145.

Harry Hampton of Virginia and William Macfarlane of Merchantville followed close with a total of 146 and Ray, the English star, was next in order with 147 strokes.

Louis Tellier had a score of 148 along with Douglas Lucas, the Canadian champion of Philadelphia also scored a total of 148.

Little Freddie McLeod, who came a mere sensation last year, shrouded in Pinehurst and Spring and left in the same way with a title and a bagful of gold, made his entrance here similarly. However, it does not look as if Freddie will be as successful this time as he makes a wonderful comeback. His total for the day was 149.

Ray and Tellier Attract Gallery

The pairing of Barnes and Ray, the two star attractions of the day, left [illegible] to be made such a creditable showing. Both and were forced a [illegible] performed with [illegible] regularity the whole day. He drove a long ball that invariably found its way down the middle of the well known alley. He approached well that accounts which characterized his [illegible] play.

On the green Barnes' work was superb.

In this [illegible] he was able to build up a fine score for himself and, though his brilliancy of the other fellows may be more spectacular and more beautiful to see, the old reliable game of par golf generally brings home the bacon.

Ray and Tellier, who went around together and who attracted most of the large gallery, had scores of 78 each in the first round. Both played in wonderful time. They intended on the greens at times, but made up for this with several puts of considerable distance.

THE STORY TO DATE

In [illegible] Don Julian Gorgas at [illegible] the man past the flush of [illegible] is in love with Teodora, a beautiful orphan who reciprocates his affection with a [illegible] devotion. Don Julian calls on Teodora in her garden and tells her how great is his attachment. The lovers walk in the garden while the world passes by outside. When he goes the old nurse, Maria, laments that Julian is not younger. Teodora repents this and shows the extent of her admiration for her flame by the warmth of her defence.

NEXT to love comes gratitude in the nature of [illegible] son of big heart. All his affection he had bestowed on Teodora. All his gratitude to an aged [illegible] who, in bad health, living on an income the source of which Don Julian concealed cunningly, knowing that Don Carlos would starve rather than touch it if the source were known.

Don Carlos, the name meant to him the name of a father whom he needed, brother whom he loved, an adviser, when he needed advice, the pane of an optimist when he [illegible] discouraged. He thought of Don Carlos as he drove from the garden talk with Teodora. Perhaps because love and gratitude were surging he ordered a coachman to stop before the house of his friend the educator.

CHAPTER X—Continued.

"YOU dear old out-of-date thing! We'll continue this discussion another time. Dad's been alone in the library altogether too long." She laughed again, a little hint of tenderness in her gaiety; and extended her hand. He took it.

"Without prejudice?" she said. "I adore you, Jim!"

"And with all my heart, Steve. I just want you to do what will be best for you, little sister."

"I know. Thank you, Jim. Now, we'll go and find dad."

They found him. He lay on the thick Oushak rug at the foot of the chair in which he had been seated when they left him.

Oh his lips lingered a slight smile.

A physician lived across the street. When he arrived he examination was brief and prefunctory. He merely said that the stroke had come like a bolt of lightning; then turned his attention to Stephanie, who seemed to be sorely in need of it.

CHAPTER XI.

WHEN such a thing happens to young people a cerial mental numbness follows the first shock, limiting the capacity for suffering, and creating its own anodyne.

The mental processes resume their functions gradually, chary of arousing sensation.

Grief produces a chemical reaction within the body, poisoning it. But within that daily visitor to the body, the soul, a profound spiritual reaction occurs which either cripples it or ennobles it eternally.

Many people called and left cards, or sent cards and flowers. Some asked for Jim; among others, Chilton Grismer.

"M-m-m'yes," he murmured, retaining the young man's hand, "my friend of many years has left us;—m-m-m'yes, my friend of many years. I am very sorry to hear it; yes, very sorry."

Jim remained passive, incurious. Grismer prowled about the darkened room, alternately purring up and sucking in his dry and slitted lips. Finally he seated himself and gazed owlishly at the young man.

"And our little adopted sister? How does this deplorable affliction affect her? May I hope to offer my condolences to her also?"

"My sister Stephanie is utterly crushed. Thank you. She is very grateful to you."

"M-m-m'yes. May I see her?"

"I am sorry. She is scarcely able to see anybody at present. Her aunt, Miss Quest, is with her."

"M-m-m. Afir all—but let it remain unsaid—m-m-m'yes, unsaid. So her aunt is with her? M-m-m-m"

Jim was silent. Grismer sat immovable as a gargoyle, staring at him out of unwinking eyes.

"M-m-m'yes," he said. "Grief was his due. My friend of many years was worthy of such filial demonstrations. Quite so—even though there is, in point of fact, no blood relationship between you, my friend of many years and your adopted sister"——

"My sister could not feel her loss more keenly if she and I had been born of the same mother," said the boy in a dull voice.

"Quite so. M-m-m'yes. Or the same father. Quite so."

"I—I simply can't talk about it yet," muttered the young fellow. "If you'll excuse me"——

"Quite so. Far better to talk about other things just at present, m'yes, far better. M-m-m—and so the young lady's aunt has arrived? Very suitable, very suitable and necessary. And doubtless Miss Quest will take up her permanent residence here, in view of the—hm-m-m-m'yes!—no doubt of it; no doubt."

She Knows Him

"We have not spoken of that."

A moment later Miss Quest entered the room.

"Stephanie is awake and is asking for you," she said. As the young man rose with a murmured excuse Miss Quest turned and looked at Chilton Grismer.

"Madame," he began, rising to his gaunt height, "permit me—my name is Grismer"——

"Oh," she interrupted, dryly, "I've talked you over with the late Mr. Cleland."

"My friend of many years, Madame"——

"We didn't discuss your friendship for each other, Mr. Grismer," she snapped out. "Our subject of conversation concerned money."

"Ma'am?"

"An inheritance, in fact, which I believe you allege that you legally converted to your own uses," she added, staring at him.

They sustained each other's gaze in silence for a moment. Then Grismer's large, dry hand crept up over his lips and began a rhythmical message of the grim jaw.

"My friend of many years and I came to an understanding in regard to the painful matter which you have mentioned," he said slowly.

"Yes?"

"Absolutely, madam. Out of his abundance, I was given to understand, he had bountifully provided for your niece—m-m-m'yes, bountifully provided. Further, he gave me to understand that you, madame, out of the abundant wealth with which our Lord has blessed you, had indicated your resolution to provide for the young lady."

There was an uncanny gleam in Miss Quest's eyes, but she said nothing. Grismer, watching her, softly joined the tips of his horny fingers.

"M-m'yes. Quite so. My friend of many years voluntarily assured me that he did not contemplate removing the unfortunate matter in question—in point of fact, madame, he gave me his solemn promise never to initiate any such action in behalf of the young lady."

Miss Quest remained mute.

"And John Cleland was right, madame," continued Grismer in a gentle, persuasive voice, "because any such litigation must prove not only costly but fruitless of result. The unfortunate and undesirable publicity of such a case, if brought to trial, could but vindicate my own rectitude and the righteousness of my cause while gossip and scandal cruelly destroyed the social position which the young lady at present enjoys."

After another silence:

"Well?" inquired Miss Quest, "is there anything more that worries you, Mr. Grismer?"

"Worries me, madame?! I am not disturbed in the slightest degree."

"Oh, yes you are. You are not disturbed over any possible scandal that might affect my niece, but you are horribly afraid of any distrace to yourself. And that is why you come into this house of death while your friend of many years' is still lying in his coffin! That is why you come prowling to find out whether I am as much a lady in my way as he was a gentleman in his. That's all that disturbs you!"

"Madame"——

A Decided Woman

"Oh, to put it plainer, you want to know whether you have to defend an action, civil perhaps, possibly criminal, charging you with mal-administration and illegal conversion of trust funds. That's all that worries you, isn't it? Well—worry then" she added venomously.

"Do I understand"——

"No, you don't understand, Mr. Grismer. And that's another thing for you to worry over. You don't know what I'm going to do, or whether I am going to do anything at all. You may find out in a week—you may not find out for years. And it is going to worry you every minute of your life."

She marched to the staircase hall.

"Meacham?"

"Ma'am?"

"Mr. Grismer's hat!"

Jim, seated beside the bed where Stephanie lay in the darkened room, her tear-marred face burned in her pillow, heard the front door close. Then silence reigned again in the twilight of the house of Cleland.

Miss Quest peeped into the room, then withdrew. If the young fellow heard her at all he made no movement, so still, so intent had he been since his father's death in striving to visualize the familiar face. And found to his astonishment and grief that he could not mentally summon his father's image before his eyes—could not fog the shocked brain to evoke the beloved features. The very effort was becoming an agony to him.

It began to rain about 4 o'clock. It rained hard all night long on the resounding scuttle and roof overhead. Toward dawn the rain ceased and the dark world grew noisy. There was a cat fight on the back fence. The car wheels on Madison avenue seemed unusually dissonant. Very far away, foggy river whistles saluted the dawn of another day.

Many at the Funeral

There were a great many people at the funeral. God knows the dead are indifferent to such attroupements macabre, but it seems to satisfy some morbid requirement in the living—friends, a priest and a passing bell.

Mos era! in mere majorum; hodie tibi; cras mihi.

The family—Jim, Stephanie and Miss Quest—sat together in the solitary. The church was bathed in tinted sunlight streaming through stained glass and fell over casket and flowers in glowing hues. The dyed splendor painted Jim and children and stained Stephanie's black veil with crimson. Behind them a discreet but interminable stirring of many people continued.

When the first creeping note of the organ, ominous and low, grew out of the silence, young Cleland felt Stephanie sway a little and remain resting against his shoulder. After a moment he realized that the girl had lost consciousness; and he quietly passed his arm around her, holding her firmly until she revived and moved again.

As for himself, what was passing before him seemed like a shadow scene enacted behind darkened glass.

He looked at the casket, at the massed flowers, at the altar, the surplices. All were foreign to the intensely human father he had loved—nothing here seemed in harmony with him—not the crawling vibration of the organ, not the resonant, professional droning of the clergy; not these throngs of unseen people behind his back—not the black garments he wore; not this slender, sombre, drooping thing of crape seated here close beside him, trembling at intervals, with one black-gloved hand gripping his.

A sullen hatred for it all began to possess him. All this was interrupting him—actually making it harder than ever for him to visualize his father—driving the beloved phantom out from its familiar environment in his heart into unrecognizable surroundings full of caskets, pallid, heavy-scented flowers, surpliced clergymen, whose cadenced phrases were accurately timed; whose every move and gesture showed them to be quite perfect in the "business" of the act.

RAILS LED LIST IN STRENGTH

Motors Were Weak and Steels Were Mixed as to Morning Trend

By W. H. ROSS.
Financial Editor.

Stocks were irregular in New York at noon, prices being lowest in the second hour. The market was fairly active, first hour sales reaching totaling about 120,000 shares. Call loans renewed at 8 per cent. Foreign exchange rates showed little alteration, demand sterling opening at $3.83¾.

Weakest issues at noon included Crucible, International Paper, Maxwell, Studebaker, Pierce Arrow, American Woolen, Endicott Johnson and U. S. Rubber. They were off from one to more than two points. Strongest issues were ones to advance early in the session, but their gains were reduced as a rule before the morning was over. Rails remained the strongest class and motors the weakest.

HIGHER PRICES AT START.

Prices moved forward when the market began but initial gains were small as a rule and trading at the outset was quiet. Rails were active and showed the most group strength. They were led by Lehigh, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific. Reading was a shade lower on its first sale but soon showed more than two points gain. Canadian Pacific sold lower at the opening but recovered all its loss and more beside. Stromberg was among the strongest industrials. Crucible did the best among steels and Mexican Petroleum among oils. Texas Pacific and U. S. Food Products also made good gains within a few minutes. Atlantic Gulf began with a three-point advance. Motors were dull and lagged in the upward movement. Baldwin was the most active equipment. Alcohols went up as a group. Steels were quiet but higher. Covering accounted for the rise, traders losing no time in evening-up commitments. The market continued to be of professional character. The public is still holding aloof. Before the end of an hour profit taking reduced gains to some extent.

SENTIMENT IS BETTER.

Sentiment in financial circles is a little more cheerful and the consensus of opinion seems to be that the credit strain will soon relax and that danger of a crisis in the Autumn is passing. But this is largely due to the fact that industrial and commercial operations are being curtailed and depositing banks is likely to diminish. While money may be easier, the business outlook is less favorable. Closing of mills and the discharge of rail employes are unto-ward signs. There is fear of wide-spread trade depression and less talk of a further advance in commodity prices, because of a shortage. Buying by the public has diminsher to such an extent that it may be found that purchasing power in hand is sufficient to supply the country's needs for some time. This is shown as a army of unemployed and a competition for jobs calculated to reduce wages. The readjustment process will be found, now as always, mainly the passing frm one trouble to another until conditions become natural. There are dissolution as well as growing pains.

Joplin Ore Prices

It is reported from Joplin, Mo., that zinc ore concentrates of 60 per cent. grade advanced in price last week, the base range being $47.50 to $48.50 a ton, with transactions on a fairly large scale. Calamine ores were unchanged in price and dealings were small. Lack of cars is still retarding shipments but production is being resumed.

Flaxseed Crop Is Large

The Northwest will produce a big crop of flaxseed this year, present indications being that from 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels will be harvested in Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana.

Cotton Market Opening

New York, July 21.—The cotton market opened irregular at a decline of 40 points on July and 10 to 20 points on other months in the half hour was unfavorable. Pressure was caused by liquidation and prices broke about 40 points from the opening levels. The result was an active selling. Opening prices were: July, 42.25, August, 39.05, September, 36.00 and October, 35.05. December, 32.70; January, 32.30; March, 31.05; May, 30.87. June, 30.75.

New York Sub-Treasury Loss

New York, July 21.—The sub-treasury lost $38,000 in the banks on Thursday, reducing the cash gain since Friday to $1,319,000.

Gold and Silver Prices

Bar gold was off 6d at 107s 3d an ounce in London today, while silver was up 2¼d at 95¼d an ounce.

SMALL CHANGES IN BOSTON

Local Trading Continues Quiet, but Undertone Is Good; Curb Stays Dull

The Boston market was as quiet as usual at the opening and quite as narrow. The early price trend was upward and the market was irregular in movement all the morning. Fluctuations were small as a rule. While the trend was indefinite, the market was fairly good underfoot. The largest forenoon changes were gains. Greatest was dealt in for the first time since its listing, an odd lot selling at par. When generally considered the local market showed no new aspect from any angle.

Issues to advance a point or more were Massachusetts Gas, U. S. Smelting, New River preferred and Wickwire. While fractional gains were made by New Haven, United Shoe, National Leather, Carson Hill, Libby and Swift International.

Issues to recede fractionally included Boston & Maine, Isle Royale, Ventura, United Drug first preferred, New England Telephone, Swift & Co., International Products and Torrington.

DULL ON THE CURB.

The Curb market had a dull beginning and most issues in the first hour of this exchange was confined chiefly to a few low-priced stocks. The leader in activity was Mutual Oil and it was followed by Bagdad. Madonna and Davis-Daly Copper issues to advance at the start were Bagdad and Tip Top, while weakness was shown by Denbigh, Mutual and Southwestern Miami part paid.

At the end of an hour Bagdad was up 4 cents at 1 cents, Mutual 3 cents at 55 cents and Madonna ⅛ at 2⅜. Foreign Exchange was off ⅛ cents at 4¼ cents.

BOSTON FINANCIAL NOTES.

On July 22 the East Boston Savings Bank will pay semi-annual interest on deposits at the rate of 4 per cent. It has been paying 4½ per cent. for two years.

The six mills ended with April last made by Wood Worsted Mills Co., after depletion, depreciation and Federal taxes, amounted to $1,256,084, which equaled, after preferred dividends to $2.61 a share on common stock. This left 30 the company had a surplus of $1,159,880.

The Pacific Mills report for the first half of this year net profits, after taxes and other charges, of $4,079,042, equal to $10.98 a share, on 371,250 the corresponding 1919 period.

Calumet & Hecla Copper Co.'s sales for the month of June were 2,602,292, an increase of about 500,000 pounds over May and a little more than last year. Sales and earnings this year are expected to break all records for the year.

The Boston Stock Exchange has listed 60,000 shares of the common stock of the Utah Copper Co., and they became eligible for trading today.

Inland Oil shipments from Mexico in June were 94,344 barrels, which is the largest since the first of the year.

The Helvetia Copper Co. has brought in its new shaft at the 1,000-foot level and from this month shipped 750 barrels of crude from its tract near Jerome, Ariz. It is said that it needs more capital for development and equipment purposes and that assessment or dividends is not a factor.

LITTLE GOLD BEHIND GERMAN MARK ISSUES

Investors who are considering putting money into German marks will find little to encourage them in the steady increase of paper marks issued by the Imperial Bank of Germany and the constant depletion of its stock of gold. Weekly statements of the institution for six weeks past show an increase of 2,191,000,000 in the amount of paper marks it has issued, while its gold holdings have increased but 122,000 marks. The comparison by weeks follows:

	Notes.	Gold
July 14	54,945,200,000	1,091,500,000
June 30	53,975,256,000	1,091,634,000
June 23	53,975,256,000	1,091,634,000
June 15	52,556,256,000	1,091,622,000
June 7	50,856,256,000	1,091,622,000
May 31	50,448,256,000	1,091,378,000

Retail Prices Higher

Persons who are trying to locate profiteering may get a cue from the Labor Department reports that during the month ending June 15 retail prices increased 2 per cent. while wholesale prices decreased 1 per cent.

The New River Co.'s July coal output is expected to approximate 300,000 tons. June production amounted to about 115,000.

Corporation Earnings

Grand Trunk System earnings increased $450,000 in the second week of this month.

June earnings by the Chandler Motor Corporation were $1,000,000, a gain of about 20 per cent. over May. For the half of 1920 its net profits before taxes were in excess of $5,500,000, which is equivalent to approximately $18.50 a share upon the 280,000 share capitalization. Surplus after taxes and dividends is $4,000,000 after deducting $1,500,000 for taxes and dividends.

During the first half of this year business of the Sheehan Manufacturing Corporation increased about $1,500,000 over the first half of 1920 in 1919 period. Net sales were $2,310,482 against $3,810,482.

For May the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road reports a net operating deficit of $263,574 against income of $1,600,005 for that of 1919 month. Its net operating income was $5,210,-175 against $7,558,856.

Earnings for the first half of 1920 by the Mullins Body Co., after taxes, preferred dividend and sinking fund, amounted to $390,118, or, for common stock of 40,000 shares

HELEN KELLER IN HER DELIVERANCE

TWICE DAILY 2:15 & 8:15

Filled with thrills and dramatic power and relieved with refreshing comedy. Her marvelous career from childhood to the present time faithfully portrayed.

Remarkable film—repeated applause a picture which is worth investigating. Is ably more than the ordinary 'love interest' film, and one which will be remembered when the majority are sentimental 'features' is forgotten completely."—Boston Globe

ORIGINAL COX MAN IS COLE

While Others Evaded, General Picked Him 3 Months Ago for American's Symposium

Who is the original Cox man of Massachusetts?

Many are claiming the honor, but the man who is really entitled to it is saying nothing. He is Colonel Brigadier-General Charles H. Cole of Boston.

Here is the proof: Three months ago the Boston American planned to submit to its readers a series of articles on the principles and policies for the nominations of the Republican and Democratic parties for President.

ALL BUT COLE EVADED.

These articles were to present the claims of each man and arguments showing his superior availability as a candidate for the favor of the people on election day. National managers, State managers and lay members of the parties were invited to contribute to the symposium.

There were a dozen articles on each side and they ran from the middle of May to the middle of June. Letters were sent to sixty prominent Democratic laymen in this state and twenty-five more were personally interviewed. Out of this number only one made positive and definite reply. Many favored candidates but did not want to make public record of their preferences, intimating that they might have reason to change their minds later.

WAS UNRESERVED FOR COX.

The one positive one was Cole. "Two months later," he said, "there were plenty of Palmer and McAdoo men, but from an early date and all along, the original Cox man stood true. Here is what he wrote on May 3.

By CHARLES H. COLE.

(May 2, 1920.)

In my opinion, Governor James M. Cox of Ohio will win the Democratic nomination for President. He is a man of ability, integrity and high character, and his availability is unquestioned. He knows how and is not afraid to express himself on all public questions of the day, and courage in politics is the strongest asset a man can have.

He comes from the great pivotal State of Ohio, which State is necessary for Democratic success. He is a splendid vote-getter and is wonderfully strong with the people as is evidenced by his being three elected Governor of his State. He would receive all the votes of his own party, and in addition, those of many Republicans and Independents who are neither wildly radical nor ultra-conservative. He is a forceful speaker and an excellent campaigner.

POINTS TO HIS RECORD.

His record as Governor of Ohio is an open book, his character is also known to the public, and will add strength to his candidacy. He is an executive and a business man who will bring to the presidency legislative knowledge as a former member of Congress; executive knowledge as Governor of a great State; and general knowledge as a business man of wide and varied experience.

He is a liberal and always has been found on the side of human rights as opposed to property rights.

EAST MILTON GIRL BRIDE OF ARMY MAN

Following his honorable discharge from the army after nine years of service, Sergeant William A. Stephens, Fort Andrews, was married to Miss Alice Louise Ellis, a clerk at the Army Base, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ellis, Granite avenue, East Milton, by the Rev. J. W. Suter, Jr., of Hyde Park, Corporal Ray Stubbs, 1st company, C. A. C., stationed at Fort Revere, was best man, and the bridesmaids were Miss Nellie Ellis and Miss Alice M. Whittier of Dorchester, sister and niece of the bride. Mrs. E. S. Mann well, organist at the Church of Our Saviour, East Milton, played the wedding march. The bride was given away by her father, Geroge Ellis. Besides the bridal couple, there were in the receiving line, Mr. and Mrs. George Ellis, parents of the bride, and Mrs. W. D. Johnson of Nahant, known as "Mother Johnson" to hundreds of soldiers.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens left on the Portland boat for a week's honeymoon, after which they will make their home with the bride's people in East Milton.

FIFTH PAIR OF TWINS IN TEN YEARS FOR JUDGE

Jersey City, N. J., July 21.—Judge Doherty of the Court of Common Pleas in Jersey City, was busy leaving the bench for his home when a fourteenth member of man whispered something in his ear.

"My! Thanks! Fine!" said the Judge unfeelingly. "That's the fifth time, you know," he said as he started off with the young man.

Word was soon received about the courthouse that Mrs. Doherty had given birth to twins, the fifth pair in their married life of ten years. Two of the twins died, but the others are alive. The little strangers are a boy and a girl.

LIEUT.-GOV. COX TO SPEAK AT GRANGE FIELD DAY

Lieut.Gov. Channing Cox is to be the principal speaker at the annual field day of the Hampshire County Pomona Grange to be held July 27, in connection with the Farmers' Week activities at the Massachusetts Agricultural College. In the afternoon the Lieutenant-Governor will attend the ratification meeting at Northampton, eight miles away, at which Governor Coolidge will be formally tendered the nomination for the Vice-Presidency.

ARREST MAN WHO FLED IN PAWTUCKET LIQUOR RAID

Pawtucket, R. I., July 21.—The local police arrested John Antonas, who recently escaped through his bedroom window when Federal prohibition agents raided his home in Summer street and confiscated a still and a large quantity of whiskey. He will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Masteron. Antonas will also be brought before the Grand Jury as a result of his having previously been arrested while walking along the railroad tracks with a still on his back.

NEW YORK STATE BUYS RADIUM FOR $225,000

Albany, N. Y., July 21.—The first purchase of radium by a State for social service was made here when State officials bought three and a quarter grams. The purchase was made possible through an appropriation of $225,000 by the Legislature.

MEASURES THAT WOULD CURE MOST OF THE TROUBLES AND TENDENCIES WHICH DISTRESS AND ALARM US TODAY

(1) To nominate for the Presidency by direct nomination and to elect by popular vote.
(2) To elect the Cabinet officers and make them responsible to Congress.
(3) To deprive the President of the power of patronage; to put all public offices as nearly as possible under Civil Service, and have appointments made by a committee of Congress.
(4) To elect Federal Judges, including the Supreme Court Justices, by popular vote.
(5) To apply the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall to national matters.

Burleson's Rank Injustice to Postal Employes

For reasons which have never been made clear, the present head of the Postoffice Department has steadily opposed adequate increase of postal workers' pay to meet the rise in prices.

Congress passed the recent pay revision bill over Mr. Burleson's protest.

This bill granted such slight increases to the majority of the veteran workers that many are planning to leave the service as soon as they can find other employment.

And now the Postoffice Department, by executive order, is adding insult to injury by reclassifying some of its clerical ranks, so as to reduce the advances to a minimum.

The pay revision bill advanced the pay of the "special clerk" from $1,750 to $2,000 a year.

Heretofore, the Money Order Department, the Registry Division, the Executive Division, the Auditing Division and the Order Department in each large postoffice has had as its expert a special clerk, often the mainstay of his section.

The special clerk of the Money Order Department, for example, must know foreign languages, domestic and foreign exchange and be an expert accountant.

The special clerk of the Executive Department must be in effect the postoffice lawyer, since many problems involving postal law confront him daily.

In the Registry Division the special clerk not only must know many languages and all about accounts, records and train connections, but must also be exceptionally trustworthy, since millions of dollars' worth of cash and securities are in his care.

And so on through the list—these special clerks as a rule are the "star" men whose ready knowledge keeps the wheels moving.

But under a recent executive order all these competent men are demoted back into the fifth grade of ordinary clerks, and the only men permitted to get the benefit of the $250 a year increase voted by Congress are to be those sorters of mail who, during the preceding year, shall have passed examinations with a percentage of 98 or better.

In short, the door to advancement is abruptly barred in the face of a considerable number of first-class workers, whom Congress clearly intended should have the maximum increase.

This kind of penny pinching has been the consistent attitude of Mr. Burleson. It has all but broken the spirit of the service. It nullifies every principle or promise of justice to faithful workers ever uttered by President Wilson. It is fortunate for the country, as well as for the postal employes and the Democratic party, that the administration will soon be ended.

And This Is the Mess They Want to Get Us Into

Hotels and stores in Trieste, belonging to Jugo-Slavs, were sacked and burned the other day in a wild anti-Slav demonstration. And the hangmen of Germany have gone on strike. The Bolsheviki have crossed the River Goryn and the German delegates to the Spa conference say that Germany cannot provide the coal demanded by the allies.

This pretty mess of news adorned the pages of nearly every newspaper. The United States had a very narrow escape from having a hand in each incident.

It would take the average taxpayer ten years of historical study to understand the why and wherefore of an anti-Slav demonstration. All those who know just where the River Goryn is or are please hold up their right hand. Whether Germany can provide so many millions of tons of coal a year to her conquerors or whether she cannot do so will require prolonged research by mining engineers, economists, financiers and wizards.

Uncle Sam, with Japan, Mexico, profiteering, high cost of living, labor problems and freight congestion staring him in the face, ought to thank his stars that England, France, Belgium and Italy are going to clear up the ballroom after the dance without his help. It is hardly fair to ask him to sweep out the debris—he wouldn't know where to put it.

With the hangmen's strike, however, it is different. Our sympathies are involved—against the hangmen. We hope they lose the strike. When one stops to think of the opportunities which presented themselves to hangmen in Germany for the past decade and which they missed, one cannot help feeling resentful toward them. And not alone in Germany. Go into any store and make a purchase of anything you need, and the feeling will come over you that somewhere and somehow a hangman loafed on his job. No. We're against hangmen.

HOW A HUSBAND SHOULD FEEL AFTER BREAKFAST

Wives, you are giving your husband a poor start in the morning when you provide a poorly cooked breakfast, or you are cross and irritable.

If a man can leave his home in a happy frame of mind, and reach his office in cheerful mood, he will do better work all day long, and you will have helped him toward success.

Your husband meets many disconcerting things in his business world. There are annoyances of which you know nothing.

The only reason he submits to indignities may be that he thinks of his wife and children and hesitates to give up a certainty for an uncertainty.

If he were a single man he might not stand for things he does now.

Since it is for you, think of these things, and start him off right.

You should be the last to add to his burden, and you are the one to comfort and provide him with a home managed in such a way that he will feel pride in it, and in every member of it, and where he may be free from the petty bickerings and unpleasant things in general.

The morning start is important.

More Truth Than Poetry

How Can We Lose?

By S. E. KISER

WHY let yourself be plagued by fear
Or suffer sorrow to assail you?
There's Harding, with his word of cheer,
He'll cure you of the ills that ail you.
He knows what's needed to restore
The things that once made life worth living;
You needn't worry any more,
Nor have a single sad misgiving.

IF Harding's boat goes on the rocks
We still may cling to glad conviction,
And look, in that event, to Cox
To rid us of our last affliction,
For he is not at all inclined
To let us linger in dejection;
He promises that we shall find
Life sweet in case of his election.

AND if, by some unlooked-for chance,
They both should find themselves defeated;
Be sure that such a circumstance
Would find us neither squelched nor cheated;
Has not each other candidate
Admitted that he may be trusted
To make the crooked pathways straight
And have our troubles all adjusted?

SO why be doubtful or downcast?
Why not be hopeful and de-lighted?
The gloomy days will soon be past,
And all that's evil will be righted.
The way ahead is full of cheer,
Go spread abroad the joyful story;
Our country, by this time next year,
Will glow with its returning glory.

Letters to the Editor

Police Strike Fund

Editor Boston American:

Having read the article about Metropolitan Police, I would like to say a word or two about the State Guardsmen. In order to get any part of the money collected for the Defenders of Public Safety, they had to sign a paper stating that they received no pay of any sort from their jobs. Now, in my company, half of the fellows received a half, or the difference in State pay and their own pay. These fellows received not a cent. from the fund. In regard to the substantial bonus, it did not come out of the safety fund, but was appropriated by the Legislature. I fail to see where the Metropolitan Police did much work in the strike. However, I suggest giving the money left over from the fund to the Guardsmen who received nothing from the fund. And if there is any left, distribute it among the Metropolitan Police.

Short Memories

Editor Boston American:

This is a world of remembrance—in a way. We remember just long enough to deceive. The wounded had scarcely started to arrive in this country before the covert sneer was in evidence. So it is not to be wondered at that Ireland's aid to America has been forgotten. For this aid she has been frightfully punished. Unlike Belgium, which also chose the path of honor, she has lost her nationality. Had Ireland wished to be a vassal of the British empire, its statesmen could long ago be ruling the world through England. But she preserved the highest ideals—the only things that make man like unto God. The war is over. Other wars will come. Perhaps the "brutes" and "sons of brutes" will decide to be "gentlemen" in the next war. Work in the shipyards is good for the financial equation.

ONE WHO FOUGHT IN THE WALL ST. WAR.

Ye TOWNE GOSSIP

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

By K. C. B.

Newport, R. I., Sometime in July.

WE ARRIVED here.
ON A ferry boat.
ON SUNDAY morning.
AND LEAVING the ferry.
A GUIDE grabbed us.
AND HE made a speech.
AND ADDED.
"IF YOU'LL turn to the right.
AT THE next corner."
AND I did.
AND AFTER that.
FOR AN hour.
WE DROVE along.
PAST BIG gates.
AND STONE fences.
AND IRON fences.
AND VANDERBILTS.
AND ASTORS.
AND PAYNE Whitneys.
AND AUGUST Belmonts.
AND DREXELS.
AND MORGANS.
AND CLARKS.
AND GOULDS.
AND GOELETS.
AND H. Suffern Taylor.
AND THE last name.
IT SEEMED to me.
THAT THE guide liked it.
AND THE way he said it.
IT SOUNDED profane.
AND HE kept saying it.
AND HE'D say it.
WITH AN exclamation point.
AND ON the way.
IT BEGAN to rain.
AND THE guide said.
IT WOULD kill his business.
FOR THE day.
AND A bad Sunday.
MEANT A big loss.
TO ALL of the guides.
AND JUST then.
HE POINTED again.
AND SAID.
"THERE'S ANOTHER view.
OF THE residence.
OF H. Suffern Taylor!!"
AND ANYWAY.
WE LEFT Newport.
AND THREE hours later.
WERE BOWLING along.
AND A wheel went flat.
AND I stopped.
AND EXCLAIMED.
"H. SUFFERN Taylor!"
AND GOT out.
AND FIXED it.

FAMINE TO BE FEARED IN GREAT BRITAIN

By Marquis of Lansdowne

LONDON, July 21.—If wars continue, famine will spread and the cost of the British army and navy will be more than taxpayers can support. The burden of taxation is already dangerously high. It is to public economy—that is to say, to a reduction of the cost of government—that we must look as the only means of relief.

While the war was in progress extravagance had its own way. Spending departments grew up like mushrooms and were necessarily staffed by persons, many of whom were wanting in administrative experience.

More Human

We should be more than human if something of the old recklessness did not still survive. The spirit of lavishness is especially discernible in the peremptory demand for a rapid restoration of the standards of comfort and well-being which prevailed before the war, in the encouragement of vast philanthropic enterprises (out of rates or taxes) for better housing, improved education and military land settlement on ruinous terms.

Pleas for delay and circumspection seem ungracious or wanting in sympathy; and in the face of expenditure, private and public, which is in progress on all sides, people are impatient of suggestions that this, that, or the other project may be wholly admirable, but that we cannot afford to carry it out until we have attended to the currency, restored public credit and lowered the general level of prices.

With such forces arrayed against him, it is hard indeed for the Chancellor of the Exchequer to hold his own, and he will be not ungrateful to those who endeavor to strengthen his hands in the courageous resistance which he has offered to more than one extravagant proposal.

Avoid Ventures

We must avoid ambitious ventures, and notably commitments abroad. The Mesopotamian venture is a case in point. The old frontier of the Indian Empire was difficult enough to defend. What will be the strategical position when we find ourselves obliged to defend what will, in effect, be a new frontier? The latest news from Persia is profoundly disquieting.

Unless the utmost vigilance is shown in restricting such ventures as these, the people of Great Britain will become more and more impatient of the burdens they are called upon to bear. To these burdens they will submit, reluctantly perhaps, but still without rebellion, so long as they feel that their interests are carefully regarded, and that we are, year by year, making steady progress in improving our financial position, but that patience will not be forthcoming if there is reason to suppose that money is being spent because our government is careless, or ambitious, or afraid to say "No."

Stars and Stripes

The only safe reservation is to keep America forever free.

How fast the seasons come and go;
She's busy making things to wear,
But she'll not wear them—good-ness, no!
What dainty things they are, and dear!
She was a bride in June last year—
How fast the seasons come and go!

THE EARTH FLATTENS AT THE POLES

By Garrett P. Serviss

"Is there a difference in the polar diameter of the earth from the equatorial? If so, how much? If a person stood on the pole would the horizon rise? Would the difference in diameter cause a warmer temperature than if the earth were entirely round? "L. L."

YES, there is a difference of nearly twenty-six and three-quarters miles between the polar and equatorial diameters of the earth, the former being the shorter by that amount, or, more exactly, according to the official data of the American Ephemeris, by 26.7 miles. The "flattening" at the poles, i. e., the ratio of the difference between the two diameters to the greater of them, is 1-297.

These, of course, are calculated figures, for no one has ever literally "stretched a line" upon more than a small part of the earth. Man's triumphs in this are all the greater because he has achieved them mostly in his head and but little by his hand.

Being calculated figures, based upon a combination of actual measurements, probable assumptions and mathematical inferences, they are not to be taken as accurate to the last degree, but it is certain that any inaccuracy that they involve is so slight that, for nearly all practical purposes, it may be disregarded.

Poles Drawn Inward

It is usual to consider the depression at the poles with reference to the earth's centre, each pole being, as it were, drawn inward toward the centre 13.95 miles, while all round the equator the globe is correspondingly swelled outward. This distortion is set down as the result of the "centrifugal force" of the earth's rotation on its axis. Very simple experiments show that a similar swelling around the equator and drawing inward at the poles occurs with every spherical body that is set into sufficiently swift rotation, unless the rigidity of the body is too great to permit of its changing shape in that manner.

At the time when the earth acquired its present outline, it is supposed to have been in a much more plastic state than it has been in since the rock crust was definitely formed. Its oblate shape is therefore an inheritance from a very early stage of its history.

One of the consequences of the difference between the polar and the equatorial diameters of the earth is its effect upon the relative weight of bodies at the poles and on the equator. Careful observations made by means of pendulums have shown that a body on the equator weighs about 1-190th less than the same body would weigh at one of the poles. But this loss of weight at the equator is made up of two things—first, the effect of centrifugal force, which diminishes the weight more at the equator than anywhere else, and not all at the poles; and, second, the effect of the smaller distance of the poles from the centre of gravity, which also makes a body weigh more at a pole than on the equator.

Difference in Gravity

The amount by which gravity is diminished at the equator by centrifugal force is 1-289th, and subtracting this from 1-190th we get about 1-155th as the amount by which the difference of distance from the centre of the earth causes gravity at the poles to exceed that at the equator.

This is not the same difference that would be found by simply squaring the distance and taking their ratio inversely, because the effect of gravity in this comparison depends not only on radial distance, but on the variations of density inside the earth.

The flattening at the poles is too slight to have any noticeable effect upon the distance of the horizon in any event the horizon would not "rise," except through some effect of atmospheric refraction.

The flattening of the earth around the poles is small, indeed, compared with that which occurs on the giant planet Jupiter. A globe representing the earth, made exactly to scale, would not appear to the eye to be any less in diameter through the poles than through the equator, even though the globe were several yards in diameter.
